Public Defender Services submits its annual report for the State of West Virginia's fiscal year 2017 – 2018.

In this fiscal year, Public Defender Services processed the payments for the services of court-appointed counsel; distributed, managed, and audited the funding for the operation of the State's eighteen public defender corporations; represented clients in appeals to the State's highest court; and evaluated, continually, the system for the delivery of legal services to indigent clients. In other words, the agency fully engaged in the ordinary course of its business.

However, I am proud to highlight the accomplishments of the agency's personnel that were above and beyond the ordinary course of business. The agency's Criminal Law Research Center, through an elaborate network of attorneys from various public defender corporations, published on the agency's website a "Motions Bank" that contains material available for use by all criminal defense lawyers during the pretrial, trial, and post-conviction phases of a criminal proceeding. The extensive "bank" of documents, spanning from the reduction of bail to an omnibus discovery motion to a motion for stay of execution of sentence, provides a platform from which any attorney appointed to a criminal matter can launch or maintain a defense. The agency's Criminal Law Research Center, together with its Appellate Advocacy Division, published on the agency's website a seventh edition of jury instructions for the trial of a criminal matter, replacing model instructions from a decade ago. An attorney's burden in preparing for a criminal trial should be substantially lessened with the thoroughly researched model instructions. The agency's Public Defender Corporation Resource Center worked with the various public defender corporations to obtain external grants for the employment of recovery coaches, enabling public defenders to not only resolve the client's legal issues, but the client's treatment needs as well. The agency hopes to expand this holistic representation of clients with substance abuse disorders statewide and, in this manner, to do its part in resolving the opioid crisis.

Despite these efforts to assist counsel in the representation of their clients, the agency continues to be mired in the investigation of counsel for over-billing. The Office of Disciplinary Counsel initiated almost a hundred complaints requiring the agency's cooperation. Criminal investigations of several attorneys continue. And the frustration mounts that the sins of a few attorneys adversely affect the public's perceptions of the greater percentage of attorneys honestly providing zealous and effective representation on a daily basis at an inadequate rate of compensation. And, of course, the agency remains unable to remove the many barriers to an increase in the rates of compensation for court-appointed counsel.

So, in the forthcoming year, the agency will continue to conduct its ordinary course of business while always striving to achieve the extraordinary.

Respectfully,

Dana F. Eddy

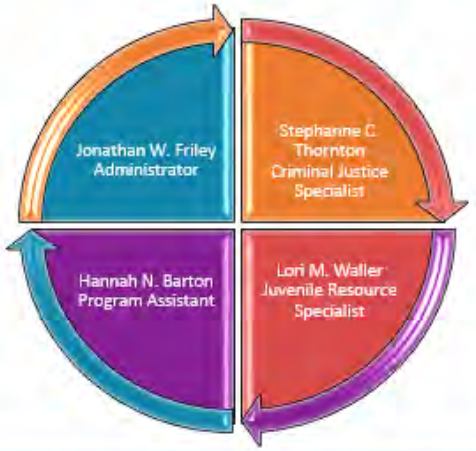
PUBLIC DEFENDER CORPORATION RESOURCE CENTER



Team Engagement & Agency Activities

Agencies, businesses, other organizations, and employees benefit from a workplace culture that encourages appreciation, recognition, and thinking outside the box. We hold various events through the year to celebrate achievements and build a more cohesive and engaged team. This year we tried something different: competition. As part of Public Employee Recognition Week, the “Cereal Killers” took on the “Cornflakes” in our first intra-office basketball game!

Lori Waller and Rhonda Ashworth encourage both teams at our basketball game

The Cereal Killers (Blue) & the Cornflakes (Orange) pose with the employee cheer section after a well-played (and exhausting) game.

Community Service & Special Events

We also value service to our community. Each year we collect donations for selected charities. This year, we chose Lakin Correctional Center & Mattie V. Lee as our holiday charities. For approximately two weeks, members of the office gathered basic and essential items such as underwear, laundry detergent, and toothbrushes, as well as coffee, healthy snacks, coloring books, activities, and other various pet supplies.

We also held the 1st Annual “Sit with Claus for the Cause” Fundraiser as part of the West Virginia State Employees Combined Campaign in support of the United Way.

Each year, state employees across West Virginia join together to help support others in their local communities through the state-sponsored West Virginia State Employees Combined Campaign (WVSECC). This campaign allows state employees the opportunity to contribute to the non-profit organizations of their choice or to contribute to the Community Impact Fund, which allows the United Way to use its discretion in the distribution of funds, based on need, to the many non-profit organizations in West Virginia which it supports.

United Way is a national network of locally governed organizations that work to create lasting positive changes in communities and people's lives. While local United Ways tackle issues based on local needs, common focus areas include helping children and youth; improving access to health care; promoting self-sufficiency and strengthening families.

United Way directly impacts our mission because they have provided funding to some of the public defender corporations (PDCs), allowing those PDCs to secure an in-house recovery coach. Recovery coaches serve as a supportive peer to adult criminal defendants charged with felonies, misdemeanors, and child abuse/neglect offenses. The peer recovery coach operates in a unique position of having lived through many of the similar experiences of our clients, but also has been able to attain sobriety and live in recovery as a restored citizen. The recovery coach makes referrals to treatment and counseling services to ensure that clients have treatment opportunities immediately upon release from incarceration, minimizing the risk of relapse and overdose death. The recovery coach also follows up with clients after they have completed treatment to offer additional support, so clients do not risk relapse and recidivism. The benefit of this project has been to address the treatment needs underlying legal charges so the recovery coach can offer substance use referrals to treatment and the public defenders can zealously provide legal representation

Sammi (daughter of PDS employee Kim Stopani) poses with Santa at the 1st Annual "Sit with Claus for the Cause" Fundraiser as part of the West Virginia State Employees Combined Campaign in support of the United Way.

PUBLIC DEFENDER SERVICES
Historical Overview

1. The State of West Virginia's Constitutional Obligation.

Over fifty years ago, the Supreme Court of the United States recognized that:

> [R]eason and reflection require us to recognize that in our adversary system of criminal justice, any person haled into court, who is too poor to hire a lawyer, cannot be assured a fair trial unless counsel is provided for him. This seems to us to be an obvious truth. Governments, both state and federal, quite properly spend vast sums of money to establish machinery to try defendants accused of crime. Lawyers to prosecute are everywhere deemed essential to protect the public's interest in an orderly society. … The right of one charged with crime to counsel may not be deemed fundamental and essential to fair trials in some countries, but it is in ours. From the very beginning, our state and national constitutions and laws have laid great emphasis on procedural and substantive safeguards designed to assure fair trials before impartial tribunals in which every defendant stands equal before the law. This noble idea cannot be realized if the poor man charged with crime has to face his accusers without a lawyer to assist him.

Gideon v. Wainwright, 372 U.S. 335, 344, 83 S.Ct. 792 (1963). With this decision, the Supreme Court of the United States, through the Fourteenth Amendment, extended the Sixth Amendment guarantee of the assistance of counsel in criminal prosecutions to the states. Essentially, states had to provide counsel for persons who were too poor to pay for legal services when these persons were confronted with criminal charges or the loss of other important rights by reason of state action.

The Supreme Court of Appeals of West Virginia reaffirmed this constitutional mandate as follows:

> "There can be no equal justice where the kind of trial a man gets depends on the amount of money he has. ..." Griffin v. Illinois, 351 U.S. 12, 76 S.Ct. 585, 100 L.Ed. 891 (1956). … The state must, as a matter of equal protection, provide indigents with the basic tools for an adequate defense or appeal, when those tools are available for a price to others.

State v. England, 363 S.E.2d 725, 727 (W. Va. 1987). Accordingly, a defense must be provided to indigent defendants and the defense must include not only the services of the attorney, but the provision of other services and material, including the transcripts of proceedings. Id.

2. The Legislative Findings.

In 1981, the following was codified at W. Va. Code §29-21-1:

> The Legislature finds and declares that in certain proceedings the state is required to provide high quality legal assistance to indigent persons who would be otherwise unable to afford adequate legal counsel; that providing legal representation to those who face an economic barrier to adequate legal counsel will serve the ends of justice in accordance with rights and privileges guaranteed to all citizens by the Constitution of the United States of America and the constitution of the state of West Virginia; that the availability of quality legal assistance reaffirms the faith of our citizens in our government of laws; that the present system which utilizes appointed counsel is not operating satisfactorily in some areas of this state and the Legislature is presently unable to determine what system or systems will provide the most efficient means for providing legal representation; that there is a need to explore alternative methods of delivering legal assistance, including the use of salaried public defenders complemented by private panel attorneys; that innovative programs and pilot projects as well as a continuation of the present appointed counsel system are necessary in separate areas of the state to provide information and experience upon which to base future legislative action.

The West Virginia Public Legal Services Council was then created "for the purpose of facilitating required legal representation of indigent persons". W. Va. Code §29-21-3 (1981; superseded in 1989).

In 1989, the agency was renamed as Public Defender Services and was charged as follows:

> The agency shall have as its principal purpose the development and improvement of programs by which the state provides legal representation to indigent persons.

W. Va. Code §29-21-4. This remains the agency's charge.

PUBLIC DEFENDER SERVICES
An Organizational Overview

VISION: "There can be no equal justice where the kind of trial a man gets depends on the amount of money he has." Griffin v. Illinois, 351 U.S. 12 (1956)

MISSION STATEMENT: To fulfill the State of West Virginia's constitutional obligation to provide quality legal assistance to persons who otherwise could not afford legal counsel in proceedings in which the person's liberty interests are at stake.

ORGANIZATIONAL STRUCTURE:

Public Defender Services is within the Department of Administration for the State of West Virginia. The chief administrative officer is the Executive Director, who is appointed by the governor.

In addition to its administrative staff, the agency has five divisions.

The Accounting and Auditing Division is charged with the following responsibilities:

> The agency shall establish and the executive director or his or her designee shall operate an accounting and auditing division to require and monitor the compliance with this article by public defender corporations and other persons or entities receiving funding or compensation from the agency. The accounting and auditing division shall review all plans and proposals for grants and contracts and shall make a recommendation of approval or disapproval to the executive director. The accounting and auditing division shall prepare, or cause to be prepared, reports concerning the evaluation, inspection or monitoring of public defender corporations and other grantees, contractors, persons or entities receiving financial assistance under this article and shall further carry out the agency's responsibilities for records and reports as set forth in section eighteen of this article. The accounting and auditing division shall require each public defender corporation to submit financial statements monthly and to report monthly on the billable and nonbillable time of its professional employees, including time used in administration of the respective offices, so as to compare the time to similar time expended in nonpublic law offices for similar activities. The accounting and auditing division shall provide to the executive director assistance in the fiscal administration of all of the agency's divisions. This assistance shall include, but not be limited to, budget preparation and statistical analysis.

W. Va. Code §29-21-6(d).

The Criminal Law Research Center is another division of the agency and has the following statutory charge:

> (1) Undertake research, studies and analyses and act as a central repository, clearinghouse and disseminator of research materials;
> (2) Prepare and distribute a criminal law manual and other materials and establish and implement standard and specialized training programs for attorneys practicing criminal law;
> (3) Provide and coordinate continuing legal education programs and services for attorneys practicing criminal law; and
> (4) Prepare, supplement and disseminate indices and digests of decisions of the West Virginia supreme court of appeals and other courts, statutes and other legal authorities relating to criminal law.

W. Va. Code §29-21-7.

The agency's third division, the Appellate Advocacy Division is established as follows:

> The agency shall establish and the executive director or his or her designee shall operate an appellate advocacy division for the purpose of prosecuting litigation on behalf of eligible clients in the Supreme Court of Appeals. The executive director or his or her designee shall be the director of the appellate advocacy division. The appellate advocacy division shall represent eligible clients upon appointment by the circuit courts or by the Supreme Court of Appeals. The division may, however, refuse the appointments due to a conflict of interest or if the executive director has determined the existing caseload cannot be increased without jeopardizing the appellate division's ability to provide effective representation. In order to effectively and efficiently use the resources of the appellate division, the executive director may restrict the provision of appellate representation to certain types of cases. The executive director may select and employ staff attorneys to perform the duties prescribed by this subsection. The appellate division shall maintain records of representation of eligible clients for record purposes only.

W. Va. Code §29-21-6(e).

The agency's fourth division, the Appointed Counsel Services Division, contains the voucher processing staff that processes for payment the vouchers which are submitted by private attorneys who accept appointments in eligible proceedings, which are defined as follows:

> Criminal charges which may result in incarceration; juvenile proceedings; proceedings to revoke parole or probation if the revocation may result in incarceration; contempt of court; child abuse and neglect proceedings which may result in a termination of > parental rights; mental hygiene commitment proceedings; extradition proceedings; proceedings which are ancillary to an eligible proceeding, including, but not limited to, proceedings to enhance sentences brought pursuant to sections eighteen and nineteen, article eleven, chapter sixty-one of this code, forfeiture proceedings brought pursuant to article seven, chapter sixty-a of this code, and proceedings brought to obtain extraordinary remedies; and appeals from or post-conviction challenges to the final judgment in an eligible proceeding. Legal representation provided pursuant to the provisions of this article is limited to the court system of the state of West Virginia, but does not include representation in municipal courts unless the accused is at risk of incarceration ….

W. Va. Code §29-21-2(2). A "help desk" is also part of the division and is designed to assist attorneys with the preparation of vouchers.

The agency's fifth division is the Public Defender Corporation Resource Center, which is dedicated to providing services to the administrators of, and attorneys within, the eighteen public defender corporations operating throughout the state. The Center is a recognition that not every public defender corporation can support or fund certain positions critical to the representation of a client. Also, the Center is a recognition that the corporations, while separate entities, must maintain uniform systems centralized within the agency in order to maximize the funding made available through legislative appropriation. Accordingly, the Center houses a criminal justice specialist, a juvenile resource specialist, an administrator, and a program assistant.

In addition to the agency's divisions, the statutory framework for the agency includes two additional entities.

Indigent Defense Commission.

The first is the Indigent Defense Commission. Specifically,

> (a) There is hereby established the Indigent Defense Commission to provide assistance to Public Defender Services with regard to the general policies and procedures of the agency, including, but not limited to, the opening, closing or merging of public defender offices throughout the state and the establishment of performance measures for the qualitative review of indigent defense.
> (b) In order to demonstrate a collaborative approach to solving criminal justice problems, the commission shall consist of the Executive Director of Public Defender Services, who shall serve as chair, and the following members appointed by the Governor:

(1) One former or retired circuit judge;

(2) Three lawyers, one from each congressional district, who have significant experience in the defense of criminal cases or have demonstrated a strong commitment to quality representation of indigent defendants;

(3) One current chief public defender; […],

(4) One nonlawyer with a demonstrated commitment to providing legal services to the indigent;

(5) One person who is a member of an organization that advocates on behalf of people with mental illness and developmental disabilities; and

(6) One attorney with significant experience in the defense of juvenile delinquency and abuse and neglect cases.

(c) The commission shall meet at the times and places specified by the call of the chair: Provided, That the commission shall meet no less than four times each year. Members shall serve without compensation but may receive reimbursement of actual and necessary expenses for each day or portion thereof engaged in this discharge of official duties in a manner consistent with the guidelines of the Travel Management Office of the Department of Administration.

(f) The commission has the following powers and duties:

(1) To develop standards regarding the qualifications and training for public defenders, assistant public defenders and staff;

(2) To explore opportunities related to the training of appointed panel attorneys;

(3) To evaluate, on an annual basis, the compensation and caseloads of public defenders and appointed panel attorneys;

(4) To develop standards for providing and compensating expert witnesses, investigators and other persons who provide services related to legal representation under this article;

(5) To study, monitor and evaluate existing standards for determining eligibility for legal representation under section sixteen of this article;

(6) To study the feasibility and need of creating additional public defender corporations, the activation of public defender corporations and the formation of multicircuit or regional public defender corporations in accordance with the provisions of section eight of this article;

(7) To study the potential for the dissolution of public defender corporations;

(8) To study, monitor, evaluate and make recommendations regarding the training, experience and background necessary for a public defender or panel attorney to competently represent indigent defendants in capital cases; and

(9) To monitor and make recommendations regarding the following activities of the board of directors of each public defender corporation receiving funding pursuant to this article:

(A) The appointment of the public defender and any assistant public defenders pursuant to subdivision (1), subsection (c), section fifteen of this article;

(B) The fixing of professional and clerical salaries pursuant to subdivision (2), subsection (c), section fifteen of this article; and

(C) The removal of any public defender, assistant public defender or other employee for misfeasance, malfeasance or nonfeasance pursuant to subdivision (3), subsection (c), section fifteen of this article.

W. Va. Code §29-21-3b.

Public Defender Corporations.

The second entity is the public defender corporation, which, if active within a judicial circuit, is "to provide legal representation … in accordance with the provisions" of the governing statute. W. Va. Code §29-21-8(a)(2).

For each public defender corporation, a board of directors is appointed. The chairperson of the board is appointed by the governor. One to two members for each county in the judicial circuit are appointed by the county commission. One to two additional members are appointed by each county bar association within the judicial circuit. The board selects a "chief" public defender who is then responsible for the delivery of legal services by the corporation. Unless inconsistent with the governing statute, the provisions of the state's nonprofit corporate laws govern the public defender corporations.

Construction begins on The Justice Center, our in-house learning studio to be completed in FY 2019.

AUDITING AND ACCOUNTING DIVISION:
PUBLIC DEFENDER CORPORATIONS

For FY 2018, there were eighteen public defender corporations serving nineteen judicial circuits (see subsequent table below). Although Public Defender Services establishes strategic objectives for the delivery of legal services to indigents in eligible proceedings, public defender corporations are not subordinate divisions of this agency. In essence, employees of the public defender corporations are neither employees of Public Defender Services nor employees of the State of West Virginia, but are employees of a specific non-profit organization governed by a board of directors appointed by the Governor, local bar associations, and county commissions.

For FY 2018, Public Defender Services provided $18,938,978.43 in funding to and on behalf of the Public Defender Corporations. In return, the Public Defender Corporations reported 272,285.9 attorney hours and 34,958 closed cases. This represents approximately $69.56 per hour and $541.76 per closed case. However, reducing the attorney time by the 66,155.00 hours reported as administrative time, the cost per hour increases to $91.88[2] with no effect to the overall cost per case.

[2] This includes hours reported as drug court time (1,443.10), the cost per hour increases to $92.53 when drug court time is removed.

PUBLIC DEFENDER CORPORATION RESEARCH CENTER

Public Defender Services (PDS) developed the Public Defender Corporation Resource Center (PDCRC) to serve public defender corporations across the state by utilizing specialists to assist attorneys in criminal defense advocacy. In addition to the resources and services available from the Appellate Advocacy Division, the following resources are available to attorneys and staff members of the Public Defender Corporations (PDCs): Mitigation and Alternative Sentencing Resources, Juvenile Resources, and Administrative, Personnel, & Technology Assistance and/or Consultation.

WHO WE ARE

Stephanne Thornton, our Criminal Justice specialist, is a licensed and clinically trained social worker and addictions counselor, as well as a Certified Clinical Trauma Professional and a Certified Sexual Offender Treatment Provider. She works with public defenders to help identify client issues, determine treatment options, create mitigation themes, recommend alternatives to incarceration, seek experts for assessment and testimony, interpret client treatment records, analyze relevant scientific research, and serve as a liaison to community programs serving the criminal offender population.

In addition to mitigation and sentencing advocacy, Stephanne explores external grant and private funding opportunities on behalf of public defender offices to fulfill their mission of zealous advocacy, particularly through sentencing advocacy.

Our Juvenile Resource Specialist, Lori Waller, is an attorney who has extensive education in clinical and forensic psychology. Lori provides assistance with legal research, legal motions and appeals, and specific research and resources related to the criminal defense of the juvenile, specifically focusing on juvenile justice and child abuse and neglect cases.

Lori has the honor of being one of the few practitioners in the country selected to participate in the Mid-Atlantic Juvenile Defender's Rural Ambassador Program, which provides intensive training in juvenile justice law.

Jonathan Friley, the PDC Administrator, is responsible for the overall health of the PDC system by ensuring compliance with funding contract conditions. In addition to his fiscal duties, Jonathan utilizes his leadership background, strong technology skills, and law degree to assist the PDCs with policy/procedure development and review, board engagement, employee and management training/coaching, leadership development, creation of best practices, and other administrative and personnel related matters.

ACTIVITIES

Fiscal Year 2018 was an eventful year for the PDCRC. We continued our PDC tour, visiting twelve offices. We met with the attorneys and support staff to learn about the local nuances unique to that specific office, including any challenges they face, and whether those stem from external practice issues or internal factors such as resources and location. The visit to Welch was particularly significant as it led to the eventual relocation of that office, making it the eighth office to relocate to proper office space in the last several years.

We also attended several local and national conferences. Stephanne attended the National Association for Public Defense (NAPD) "We The Defender! Investigator, Social Worker, and Sentencing Advocate Conference" in Denver and presented at the National Association of Social Workers' (WV Chapter) Spring Continuing Education Conference in Charleston. She also attended the American Bar Association's Interdisciplinary Parent Representation training and conference. In October, Stephanne hosted "What is Addiction? How Does Knowing Help Me Help My Clients?", a webinar in the Practice Tools for Attorneys training series we began last year.

As reported in our Annual Report last year, Lori Waller had been selected to participate in National Juvenile Defender Center's Rural Ambassadors Program. This year, she traveled to Georgetown Law School where she joined other leaders in juvenile law from across the country to begin the year-long training program. The Rural Ambassadors Program hopes to inspire enthusiastic, dedicated juvenile defenders in isolated areas to take a leadership role in improving the quality of juvenile defense in their respective counties and courthouses. In May, Lori also co-presented on the Role of Counsel at the Regional Rural Juvenile Training Immersion Program in Shepherdstown, WV, presented by the Kanawha County Public Defender and the Mid-Atlantic Juvenile Defender Center.

Jonathan Friley spent a week in Frankfurt, KY participating in the National Association for Public Defense's Executive Leadership Institute (ELI) where he joined approximately 150 other defense leaders from around the country to tackle various issues we face. He remained after ELI concluded to participate in an intensive Train-the-Trainer workshop.

AVAILABLE RESOURCES & DIRECT ASSISTANCE

Indigent defense is an often-thankless profession that's full of long hours and very limited resources. Although our funding structure limits the PDCRC's direct assistance[3] to Public Defender Corporations, we recognize the limitations practitioners face and make resources available to the greater-legal community whenever possible. Many of the resources the agency creates, including the materials discussed in this section, are available on our website or on our blog[4].

This year, both Lori and Stephanne published blog posts discussing critical issues relevant to defense practice. Stephanne also issued two newsletters[5] on mass incarceration and bail reform. Lori worked closely with several PDCs on critical issues to juvenile representation, including a minor's right to refuse treatment, when the court may appoint a guardian for a minor, and juvenile competency.

Stephanne worked with an attorney in the 13th Judicial Circuit to develop a sentencing memorandum using a chaos map, one of the techniques she learned from the inaugural National Association for Public Defense (NAPD) Social Worker/Sentencing Advocate and Investigator Conference. Following her return from the NAPD conference, Stephanne compiled an investigator resource guide notebook for use by the investigators in the 13th Circuit PDC based on materials made available on NAPD's website and at the conference.

Stephanne was able to meet with the grant-funded recovery coach in the 5th Circuit PDC to provide training and assistance on data collection. She also worked with the Chiefs in the 5th and 13th Circuit PDCs to apply for separate grants to continue the existing recovery coach position in the 5th and implement a resource coordinator position in the 13th, with both individuals working with public defender clients with substance use disorder and mental health conditions requiring treatment and support pre-adjudication.

APPELLATE ADVOCACY DIVISION

"The right of an accused in a criminal trial to due process is in essence, the right to a fair opportunity to defend against the State's accusations." Chambers v. Mississippi, 410 U.S. 284, 294, 93 S. Ct. 1038, 1045 (1973). The Appellate Advocacy Division strives to protect this right and to ensure that West Virginia conducts its criminal trials in accordance with the rule of law rather than compromising justice in light of the citizen-defendants' perceived opprobrium.

The Appellate Advocacy Division's primary task is to pursue appeals on behalf of indigent criminal defendants throughout the state who stand convicted of serious crimes resulting in lengthy prison sentences. The Appellate Division prefers complex cases or cases presenting issues of first impression so that in addition to protecting each individual client's rights, the law in general can advance in a positive direction.

A noteworthy affirmation of a citizen's right against unreasonable search and seizure in West Virginia resulted from a case Matthew Brummond presented before the Supreme Court of Appeals of West Virginia. The question the Court decided was whether a warrant issued to search a residence authorized officers to search "all persons" present, including, the petitioner who was a mere guest. Matthew argued the search of petitioner was an illegal warrantless search. He further asserted that the circuit court erred by denying trial counsels motion to suppress the evidence recovered from petitioner's person.

The Supreme Court agreed with Matthew, reversing petitioner's conviction. The Supreme Court held that mere presence in a home where drugs were discovered did not result in probable cause to search petitioner. The Court further held that a warrant to search a residence did not grant authority to search the petitioner who happened to be present at the time the warrant was served. State v. Barefield, 240 W.Va. 587, 814 S.E.2d 250 (2018).

The Appellate Advocacy Division believes that trial and appellate lawyers can develop a united front in the defense of the indigent citizens of our state. In an effort to implement this team approach, the division assists attorneys throughout the State by answering attorney assistance calls and participating in continuing legal education programs offered by the Criminal Law Research Center. Our lawyers participated in every CLE program the Criminal Law Research Center held this year, including the 2018 Indigent Defense Conference.

The Appellate Division welcomes any practicing criminal defense lawyer within the state to call with legal questions they may have, regarding a court appointed case. The assigned appellate attorney will research any issue and provide prompt feedback. The Appellate Division offers other services, as well. The attorneys will brainstorm issues in a case, review discovery and offer suggestions or host a moot court in person or via phone conference.

The Appellate Advocacy Division is dedicated to vigorous representation of every client during both the trial and the appellate phase. Our ultimate goal is to help ensure that every indigent citizen charged with a crime enjoys all the constitutional rights and protections guaranteed under the constitutions of both the United States and West Virginia.

INDIGENT DEFENSE COMMISSION

In calendar year 2018, the Indigent Defense Commission was comprised of the following members:

> Dana F. Eddy, serving as the chair by virtue of his position as the Executive Director of Public Defender Services; Valena Beety, serving as a lawyer from the First Congressional District with experience in the defense of criminal cases or having demonstrated a strong commitment to quality representation of indigent defendants; Lonnie Simmons, serving as a lawyer from the Second Congressional District with experience in the defense of criminal cases or having demonstrated a strong commitment to quality representation of indigent defendants; Teresa McCune, serving as a lawyer from the Third Congressional District with experience in the defense of criminal cases or having demonstrated a strong commitment to quality representation of indigent defendants; The Honorable John L. Cummings, serving as a retired circuit judge; Joshua Edwards, serving as a current chief public defender; Jane Moran, serving as an attorney with significant experience in the defense of juvenile delinquency and abuse and neglect cases; Lawrence P. Shao, serving as a nonlawyer with a demonstrated commitment to providing legal services to the indigent; and Karen B. Yost, serving as a member of an organization that advocates on behalf of people with mental illness and developmental disabilities.

During the year, the Indigent Defense Commission completed its work on a Performance Review Guide for Public Defenders and, in a resolution, approved the distribution of the guide by Public Defender Services to the boards of directors for, and the chief public defenders of, the state's eighteen public defender corporations. Public Defender Services incorporated the guide into the funding contracts for each of the public defender corporations for the Fiscal Year 2018-2019. Public Defender Services is further charged with the training of the boards of directors in the use of the performance evaluation included with the guide. The Commission's intent is that public defenders will be effectively and uniformly evaluated by their chiefs and that chiefs will have measurable and uniform accountability to their boards.

Throughout the year, the Commission, in addition to the reports from Public Defender Services on its efforts, heard presentations from Jeremiah Underhill, Legal Director of Disability Rights of West Virginia, on the issues of treatment of individuals with disabilities in the state's correctional facilities, from Robert Albury, Executive Director of the West Virginia Judicial & Lawyer Assistance Program, on resources available to public defender corporations in managing employees, and Crystal Walden, Director of the Public Defender Services' Criminal Law Research Center on the agency's annual conference and on the agency's efforts to partner with the West Virginia University Law School on the certification of attorneys to do court-appointed work. The Commission will continue to monitor the progress of these various programs and the development or resolution of the identified issues.

Public Defender Corporation for the First Judicial Circuit

Under the direction of our 9-member Board of Directors, the First Judicial Circuit Public Defender Corporation is a client focused non-profit organization operating in the Northern Panhandle of West Virginia. In order to meet the demands of the four judges and ten magistrates located in our tri-county circuit, we employ nine full time attorneys representing over 170 years of combined legal experience. Our attorneys are supported by five non-lawyer staff associates. Our attorneys and staff are split among two offices located in Wheeling and Weirton.

Our primary mission is the direct representation of indigent citizens accused by the government of crimes against the state. We do this well—everyone knows what we bring! Our secondary mission focuses on preserving the Rule of Law. Gideon correctly states that attorneys are not luxuries but necessities. Our profession of law dictates that we are the social trustees for the rule of law. To that end, we aim to use our collective expertise only in the best interests of our clients and society.

In FY 17, our Corporation handled nearly 68% of felony offenses involving indigent persons in the First Judicial Circuit—a 6% increase from the previous year. In addition to other actions such as parole revocations and miscellaneous matters, we represented nearly 89% of misdemeanors and 83% of juvenile cases requiring appointed counsel. Our cost per case remains $668.33 lower than panel attorneys. These raw numbers provide the best evidence of our cost effectiveness.[*]

To be clear, cost-saving measures are not the true measure of our impact in the community. That honor belongs to the performance of our employees. Our Corporation takes pride in the competent delivery of legal services to our clients. Collectively, our board, attorneys and support staff are the Corporation. Together, we are imperfect servants of our profession. We defend the indefensible. When family, friends, and community have abandoned the accused—we humbly stand beside them. We never forget that individual liberty begins with indigent defense.

Equally important, we are vested in the community. Our employees are military veterans; board members, former elected officials, mentors, youth sport coaches, and community volunteers. Our exclusive focus on criminal defense contributes to the efficient delivery of legal services. Efficiency yields time for our employees to: serve on local boards such as Youth Services Systems (YSS), Community Corrections Program, Wheeling Regatta, and Legal Aid; community activism; Coaching youth basketball and softball programs; participation in community theatre, and service in the West Virginia Army National Guard.

Our dedication to the rule of law shapes our end state—that being our hard-earned reputation as an obstacle on the road to tyranny. We remain your quiet guardians of liberty.

Public Defender Corporation for the Second Judicial Circuit

The Public Defender Corporation for the Second Judicial Circuit has accomplished much during the Fiscal Year 2018. First, we experienced an increase caseload, which was handled due to the efforts of all staff and attorneys, despite personnel changes and covering three counties from the office in the northernmost County.

Assistant Public Defender Zachary Zilai began work on July 5, 2017, and in August won a bench trial in Wetzel Magistrate Court. He was deployed with the Army Reserves JAG Corps for 3 months, and during his absence current Assistant Public Defender for the First Judicial Circuit Robert Catlett filled in very capably. Assistant Public Defender John Gainer won a jury trial in Tyler County Circuit Court. Long-time Assistant Public Defender Jeremiah Gardner left in April 2018 to become the law clerk for the Honorable David W. Hummel, Jr., Judge of the Second Judicial Circuit. He has been replaced by Assistant Public Defender Christopher Hood, who has been working diligently. Mr. Gardner was the second office employee hired by the Court system this fiscal year, as clerical employee Jennifer Cook was hired by the local Day Report Center in November.

Chief Public Defender Brett Ferro stayed busy during the fiscal year, as he served on the editing committee for the Public Defender Services Motions Manual and on the Fatality Review team of the West Virginia Supreme Court, in addition to his regular caseload and duties. Among his many felony cases, he won a felony sex jury trial in Wetzel County in August and was co-counsel on a murder case where an inmate allegedly killed his cellmate. An alibi defense was not presented, but a criminal responsibility defense was. Mr. Ferro is grateful to his co-counsel, Wheeling attorney Marty Sheehan, and for help in securing an expert psychologist from both Thirteenth Judicial Circuit Chief Public Defender Diana Panucci and Twenty-Eighth Judicial Circuit Chief Public Defender Cindy Stanton (who he greatly enjoyed working with when she was head of the Motions Manual Editing Committee and who gave him valuable pointers from her own recent murder case that was resolved favorably). The cellmate case was resolved favorably shortly after the end of Fiscal Year 2018.

Office Manager (and Office Photographer) Jenny Galloway has been the glue that has held the office together throughout the fiscal year. We would not have accomplished what we did without her efforts.

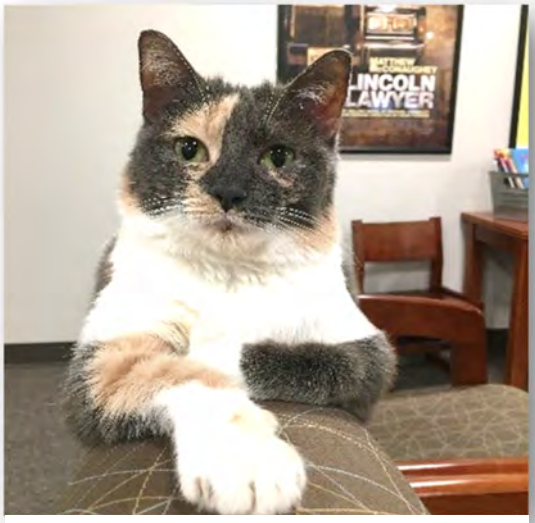
Public Defender Corporation for the Fourth Judicial Circuit

"The days are long but the years are short." I am not sure who said this, but it certainly seems applicable to the work here at the Public Defender's Office.

After opening our doors in January 2016, the Fourth Circuit Public Defender's Office is now entering its third full, fiscal year of operations. While we are still the new kids on the block, we have settled into a rhythm within the office. At times, it seems overwhelming: the grand jury returns six to eight times per year, then the new indictments, the arraignments, the trials, the pleas, not to mention the preliminary hearings, juvenile hearings, and the constant barrage of misdemeanor charges and hearings. Then there are the other tasks that mark the passage of each year – Chief's meetings, budget preparations, interns coming and going, annual training, seminars, the audit, the tax returns, and the ever-present Time Matters reports.

Despite the landslide of legal work and the persistent cacophony of upsetting news in West Virginia and elsewhere, we press on. Despite setbacks, disappointing rulings, clients overdosing, convictions, and other worrisome issues, we also have victories to celebrate. Like Joseph McFarland's ten minute not guilty verdict in a malicious wounding case. Like Andrew Hilber's string of successful magistrate court verdicts (five not guilty verdicts in a row, but who's counting?) And dismissals at preliminary hearings (way to go Nancy McGhee and Brad Frum) and at juvenile hearings (Reggie Bailey!!!!). And Shane McCullough's daily legal maneuverings. And Dominique Dye's important work in getting clients treatment. So, we savor those moments and continue to march forward, because we know that the fight is as important as the outcome.



Miss Trial

Every person at the Fourth Circuit Public Defender Office is proud to be a part of the West Virginia Public Defender system. We feel fortunate to have the support of and kinship with other Public Defender Corporations. The important work that each and every Public Defender office does cannot be overstated. We are part of the checks and balances that our legal system needs and relies upon.

For the first time since we opened, we are experiencing turnover in our attorney staff: Heather Nicholson and Matt DeVore are departing for other opportunities. Heather has taken a position in the Wood County Prosecutor's Office and Matt is going to open his own law office. We wish both of them well, and as of this writing, are anxiously awaiting bar results so that we can resume full staffing.

Dockat waiting to greet clients

Also, we haven't reported on Dockat our office cat, who was rescued and adopted in April 2016. We have added a companion, Miss Trial. It's truly amazing how much our clients relate to our kitties. Both rule this roost and are welcome additions to our daily office routine.

Public Defender Corporation for the Fifth Judicial Circuit

Organization's History:

The Public Defender Corporation held its first board meeting on the 31st day of July 1996 and includes the 5th Judicial Circuit of Calhoun, Roane, Jackson, and Mason counties in West Virginia. However, during the process the Mason County Bar brought a lawsuit against the corporation and was granted an injunction for operation in Mason County. At the time, the injunction was not challenged and the corporation along with Public Defender Services made the mutual decision not to litigate the injunction as Public Defender Services and the corporation being in their infancies and it was agreed it was more important to firmly establish the corporation and Public Defender Services generally. To this day, the injunction has not been challenged. The corporation has revisited the topic in meetings and with communication with the local Mason County Bar and Judge Nibert of Mason County, West Virginia through its Chief Public Defender and has decided not to challenge the injunction as of this date.

Organizational Goals and Objectives:

Our goal is to provide high quality legal assistance to indigent persons who would be otherwise unable to afford adequate legal counsel; to provide legal representation to those who face an economic barrier to adequate legal counsel that will serve the ends of justice in accordance with rights and privileges guaranteed to all citizens by the constitution of the United States of America and the constitution of the state of West Virginia; to make available quality legal assistance that reaffirms the faith of our citizens in our government of laws.

The objective is to protect the ordinary citizen from wrongful conviction and to protect the basic and fundamental rights of all citizens by navigating those individuals charged with crimes through an evolving and complex legal system. A conviction based on sound law and tested facts with competent counsel is rarely overturned by the courts whereby society as a whole is protected by protecting individual rights.

Programs and Services:

Pursuant to W. Va. Code §29-21-8(a)(2) the purpose of a public defender corporation is to provide legal representation in the respective circuits in accordance with the provisions of that article. To that end, we provide appointed counsel in felony, misdemeanor, abuse and neglect, juvenile delinquency, juvenile status offenses, family court contempt when jail is contemplated, and mental hygiene proceedings.

Current Employees:

Susan Slaven—Office Manager

Office Manager Susan Slaven has been employed for 22 years with the Public Defender Corporation 5th Judicial Circuit, originally hired by well-known attorney and founding Chairman of our Board, Bert Goodwin. She has 34 years of experience in the legal system as a former employee of the Jackson County Sheriff's Department Law Enforcement Division, Jackson County Prosecuting Attorney's office, and Goodwin & Goodwin Law Firm.

Susan is a dedicated employee and public servant. Under her direction, the office has expanded from five total employees to twelve employees, along with two office expansions.

Ryanne Ball—Assistant Public Defender

Ryanne Ball is a 2014 graduate of the West Virginia University College of Law. Prior to attending law school, Ryanne received a bachelor's degree in political science from WVU, where she was also a four-year member of The Pride of West Virginia Mountaineer Marching band.

Upon graduating from law school and successfully passing the July 2014 bar examination, Ryanne began a one-year clerkship for the Honorable John W. Hatcher in Fayette County, and joined our office in December of 2015. During her time with the PDC, Ryanne has worked on cases ranging from child abuse and neglect proceedings to serious felony offenses.

Ryanne currently resides in Charleston, West Virginia. In her spare time, Ryanne likes to travel, attend Mountaineer Football games, and volunteer with the Charleston Junior League helping women and children in need in the Kanawha Valley.

Lauren Estep—Assistant Public Defender

Lauren has worked at our office for three years and mainly handles the juvenile and abuse & neglect cases. She graduated from West Virginia University in 2009 with a B.A. in Psychology and a minor in Philosophy. She obtained her law degree in 2012 from the West Virginia University College of Law. She works with the nonprofit Daymark Inc. to raise money to provide programs for West Virginia's at-risk youth and volunteers at her local Humane Society.

Elizabeth Shaver—Assistant Public Defender

Beth Shaver has been employed as a public defender for most of her career in West Virginia. She worked at the Ripley office from 2000-2007 and then returned to the office in 2014. Since her return in 2014, she has been responsible for the magistrate court cases in Jackson County. She also worked as an assistant prosecutor in Jackson County for four years. Ms. Shaver genuinely enjoys helping the indigent population in her hometown.

Ms. Shaver received her undergraduate degree in liberal arts from West Virginia University and her law degree from the University of Kentucky. She has two active teenagers who consume most of her time outside the office.

Recovery Coach

This fiscal year we were excited and grateful to have received funding from the Sisters Health Foundation to realize the hiring of a grant-funded recovery coach to serve as a supportive peer to our adult criminal defendants charged with felonies, misdemeanors, and child abuse/neglect offenses. The peer recovery coach operates in a unique position of having lived through many of the similar experiences of our clients, but also has been able to attain sobriety and live in recovery as a restored citizen. The recovery coach makes referrals to treatment and counseling services to ensure that clients have treatment opportunities immediately upon release from incarceration, minimizing the risk of relapse and overdose death. The recovery coach also follows up with clients after they have completed treatment to offer additional support, so clients do not risk relapse and recidivism. The benefit of this project has been to address the treatment needs underlying legal charges so the recovery coach can offer substance use referrals to treatment and the public defenders can zealously provide legal representation.

Kevin Postalwait—Chief Public Defender

Kevin graduated from Calhoun County High School in Calhoun County, West Virginia in 1994. He received his Bachelor of Arts Degree in English from Marietta College in 1998 where he minored in management and was part of the McDonough Leadership Program. He then attended law school at West Virginia University, graduating in 2001.

Kevin began his legal career with the Public Defender Corporation for the 5th Circuit upon graduation from law school. He then worked later in private practice for Curnutte Law Offices in Elkins, West Virginia. He later would return to criminal work as appointed Prosecuting Attorney for Ritchie County, where he also had a part-time law office. After fulfilling his obligation for Ritchie County, he continued in private practice until he was hired as Chief Public Defender in January 2009. In January 2019, he will have 10 years in the role and is looking forward to many more years of service to the corporation.

When not in the office, Kevin can be found bass fishing around West Virginia and competing in various bass tournaments.

Sandra S. Fisher—Administrative Assistant

Sandy is a graduate of Ravenswood High School with additional Office & Business Education classes taken at Roane-Jackson Technical Center & West Virginia University – Parkersburg. She worked with a local law firm from 1983 until 1995 when she began working for the State of West Virginia from 1995 – 1996 at the Bureau for Child Support Enforcement. Sandy was hired in October 1996 by the 5th Judicial Public Defender Office and has been employed with us for 21 years.

Outside of the office, she has a long association with pageants on the local, state and national levels, having been involved with pageants for the past 39 years and for 11 years was the Director of the Parkersburg Homecoming Festival Queen & Teen Pageant. Each January Sandy serves on the staff of the West Virginia Association of Fairs & Festivals Pageant and for 2 years she traveled with Pageant Associates, producers of the Miss USA & Teen USA Pageants in Indiana, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia.

Debra Boggs—Administrative Assistant

Debra has worked as the receptionist/secretary for the Public Defenders in the Spencer office for two years. She has a bachelor's degree in business from Southwest Texas State University. Debra has 35+ years of professional experience managing office responsibilities including, file organization, client liaison, bookkeeping/scheduling, and other managerial tasks.

Besides dedicating herself to her professional employment, she is also an active member of the community of Spencer. Debra attends the First Baptist Church, where she is involved in several groups, as well as a seasoned choir member. Debra is a past member of Roane Arts and Humanities, and an avid supporter of Roane County Schools and its students. She is an active member of Roane General Hospital's fitness complex and past WV State Symphony Orchestra Choir member.

Debra has a wonderful husband, four grown daughters and she is "Mimi" to eleven grandchildren.

Darren R. Queen—Assistant Public Defender

Darren is the newest addition to the office but comes with an array of experience. He has over fifteen years of service as a Public Defender in Cabell and Wayne Counties. He then served two years as an Interim Magistrate in Cabell County. Most recently, Darren served four years as an Assistant Prosecuting Attorney in Webster County. Darren has experience handling cases at all levels of Circuit and Magistrate Court, including felony trials, juvenile and abuse and neglect Cases in Multiple Circuits. He works out of the Roane County office.

Darren is a native of Huntington WV, (Wayne County). He completed his undergraduate work and received a Political Science degree from Marshall University with a minor in History. He graduated in 1993 with his bachelor’s degree and one year of graduate school to attend the West Virginia University College of Law and graduated in 1996.

He is the proud father of two children: Jackson 12 and Jordan 10.

Daniel Minardi—Assistant Public Defender

Daniel joined our Spencer office in August 2017 to be the office’s primary attorney for Calhoun County. He is originally from Ritchie County, and attended WVU where he obtained bachelor’s and master’s degrees in mathematics. Daniel spent two years teaching mathematics at Ritchie County High School before returning to WVU to attend law school.

He received his Juris Doctorate from the West Virginia University College of Law in May of 2014. Daniel was admitted to the West Virginia Bar in October 2014. Afterward, he primarily prepared title opinions for oil and gas production companies. Since joining the Public Defender’s office, he has gained substantial magistrate court and circuit court experience, with numerous plea agreements and parents reunited with their children. Daniel has obtained one acquittal out of three trials in magistrate court, and one hung jury (with a motion for judgment of acquittal granted on 15 counts of the 24-count indictment) in three felony trials in Circuit Court.

When not in the office, Daniel enjoys shooting sports and spending time with his family.

Andrew Vodden—Deputy Chief Public Defender

Andrew Vodden is the Deputy Chief Public Defender for the 5th Judicial Circuit of West Virginia, where he has worked for over three years. He is a 2004 graduate of the University of California, Santa Barbara with a Bachelors in English and graduated law school from West Virginia University in 2014, where he simultaneously received a master's degree in public administration. A native Californian, Andrew moved to his adopted home state in 2011.

Spencer Office

Andrew works out of the Spencer, West Virginia office where he handles felony cases, including serving as lead counsel for more than 10 felony jury trials during his short tenure, winning a number of acquittals on felony charges. He has begun to develop an expertise in DNA and its use in criminal proceedings. He attended the 2018 Wisconsin Trial Academy, where he learned the latest in trial techniques from experts around the country. A resident of Charleston, Andrew is recently married, and has a thirteen year old daughter.

New & Noteworthy for 2018:

The corporation has had a few departures and additions. We had one lawyer leave our Roane County office and have now replaced that attorney. We currently have an attorney vacancy in our Jackson County office.

We continue to work diligently to protect each client's rights as they navigate the criminal justice system, often steering them toward sobriety. The Chief Public Defender argued a case in the West Virginia Supreme Court clarifying credit for time served for pre-conviction home confinement. We have had several clients participate in the Drug Court Program. These folks have made and continue to make remarkable strides from addiction to sobriety. We have had graduates who have seemed to truly change from a life of addiction to a life of sobriety and now hold full time jobs and maintain close family relationships that had been previously abandoned. We received funding for a Peer Recovery Coach position through the Sisters Health Foundation. The peer recovery coach helps find available drug rehabilitation facilities and keeps up with them on a regular basis. We have reapplied for continued funding for the next year and have also received a grant from United Way to support the position. We believe this position is a valuable resource and are working to gather statistics to reflect the number of clients who have been aided in their recovery through the help of the Recovery Coach.

Kevin Postalwait,
Chief Public Defender

Public Defender Corporation for the Sixth & Twenty-fourth Judicial Circuits

The Public Defender Corporation for the 6th and 24th Judicial Circuits was founded on July 1, 1994 and serves Cabell and Wayne Counties. The one thing that stands out in our case load is the large number of felonies, an amount driven by an ever-growing number of drug and murder cases. To underscore this problem, Huntington was prominently featured in an Oscar-nominated documentary entitled Heroin(e), which followed the daily lives of three women who are on the front line of the drug epidemic crisis. Additionally, the National Guard was called in last year to help with the overwhelming number of drug overdoses.

In FY 2017, the Huntington office closed 4,167 cases and the Wayne office closed 1,002 cases which total 5,169 cases. There are eleven attorneys in Huntington and three in Wayne. There is one support staff position in Wayne and six in Huntington which includes a full-time investigator. Our office has been active in helping establish and maintain Adult Drug Courts and Day Report Centers in both counties. We also participate in the Juvenile Drug Court in Wayne and Cabell counties.

FY 2017 saw the retirement of Robert "Bob" Wilkinson as Chief Public Defender, a position held by Bob for 24 years. Brent Walters, who has been with the Public Defender's office since 2008, was tapped to replace Bob as the new Chief Public Defender.

The Public Defender Corporation for the 6th and 24th Circuits continues to strive to provide quality representation for our clients in our region regardless of our large caseload. Historically, our office has been one of the leading Public Defender offices in cost effective representation.

Community Involvement

Several members of our staff also serve our community beyond our office. Mike Clark, our investigator, serves on the Board of Directors of the Hite Saunders Little League, as well as the Board of Directors for the West Virginia Deputy Sheriff's Association. Brent Walters serves on the Board of Directors for the Western Regional Day Report Center. Vickii Hughes is a member of the Women's Philanthropic Society for Cabell-Huntington Hospital. Bridget Lucas is a volunteer nursery coordinator for Christ Temple Church.

Brent Walters
Chief Public Defender

Public Defender Corporation for the Seventh Judicial Circuit*

The challenges for the Logan County Public Defenders continued to grow this past fiscal year along with the ongoing drug addiction epidemic. Drug addiction is now a part of almost every case in our office, regardless of the underlying allegations. Our skills as lawyers and support staff are put to the extreme test daily. The clients and family members no longer simply look to us to make quality legal arguments in Court for them; they also look to us to get help that may literally save lives. As members of the Logan County community, we try to help people as much as we can both in and out of the office. Each member of our team plays a significant role in representing the poor people who find themselves in an overwhelming situation due to false or exaggerated charges which are all exacerbated by the drug addiction issues. Each member of our team also plays a separate role as an active and positive member of this Logan County community.

THE LOGAN COUNTY TEAM

The Chief, Dwayne J. Adkins and the cane carved by an inmate at Moundsville for the Chief's Great Grandfather, Evangelist, Paris Brumfield Adkins. Keeping a heart for the cause of the downtrodden is a family tradition.

The Chief, Dwayne Adkins comes from the heart of Wayne County, but has been a Logan County resident since 1995 when he was hired as an assistant public defender. Dwayne left the Public Defender fold for several years and was a plaintiff's lawyer, insurance defense lawyer, and assistant prosecutor. Dwayne became Chief Public Defender in 2005 and has increased his community activities and involvement every year since taking over as Chief because he has come to realize the role of the Chief should expand out of the office and into the community.

Assistant Public Defender, Gerald Merceruio has been with the Office since soon after its creation in 1991. Year in and year out he makes certain police officers and prosecutors cannot simply overcharge clients and not have their actions scrutinized and challenged whether in Magistrate Court or Circuit Court. His unapologetic persistence for fairness and justice not only benefits our clients, but also illustrates what it means to protect the Constitution.

Gerald Merceruio has been with the Office since 1991. If we start giving out Iron Horse awards he should be considered. He enjoys giving prosecutors and police officers a very hard way to go and that is good for the clients.

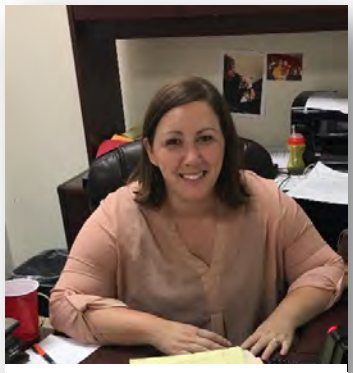
Don McDaniel having a standard day helping our poor and downtrodden clients.

Assistant Public Defender, Don McDaniel, is our very own Ivy League Graduate with an undergraduate degree from Yale and law degree from Vanderbilt. Don has over forty years of criminal law experience with experience in Texas and West Virginia spanning decades. Don continues to push hard for his clients and is best known in the county for finding positive and promising things to say about some individuals with long histories of failure in the criminal justice system. Don understands better than most that past behavior does not mean you are guilty of current allegations nor does it mean that you are beyond redemption even if you are a repeat offender.



Ashley Cochrane, is our successful intern recruit story but she is no longer a rookie with over ten years of experience in carving out a niche in juvenile and abuse and neglect cases.

Assistant Public Defender, Ashley Cochrane, is our very own successful intern recruit story. Many years ago, she was an intern and got the experience of assisting the Chief in a very difficult murder case. She was not deterred from the experience and returned to us after working with Jane Moran and clerking for Judge O'Briant. She has proven a formidable attorney in abuse and neglect and juvenile matters and has become the go to person in the office for questions in such matters.

Carol Booth, points out furniture she recently put together on her own, saving the office the additional cost of furniture assembly. Furniture builder, social worker substitute and copier/printer repair person.

Carol Booth, our office manager has been with the office since 2005. Along with keeping the Chief organized, she assists the new accountant and plays the role of liaison with drug rehabilitation centers. Frankly, she has been personally responsible for getting many public defender clients accepted into inpatient rehabs. It is a skill acquired by time and making contacts that has become invaluable to the office and clients.

Pam Esposito having a standard day answering the never-ending phones. She is a good gate keeper for the lawyers of the office and always looking out for lost dogs with the Paw Squad.

Pamela Esposito, legal secretary is known for her sunny personality and friendly nature. She works diligently to get cases opened and moving to the attorneys daily. She has years of experience both in our office and prior to coming to work for us that benefits clients greatly.

Brandi Bias having a standard day deciphering Don McDaniel's notes which can be hard. She is patient and kind, essential skills for her role.

Brandi Bias, legal secretary is an experienced secretary coming to us from the Wandling Law Office. She has great people skills and quickly adapts to dealing with difficult family members who often call the office. Secretaries must be gate keepers and Brandi is very good at the gate keeper skills.

Intern Anna Butcher. When she isn't busting out legal research she may be singing as an opening act for people like Kelly Pickler

Anna Butcher is an intern from Appalachian School of Law in Grundy, Va. Prior to this internship, Anna interned with Public Defender Services in Charleston. She played significant roles in legal research this summer and was trained in the day to day work that is necessary to protect the rights of criminal defendants. She is well known in Logan County with a history of working with the city on projects.

ACHIEVEMENTS DURING THE FISCAL YEAR

This fiscal year saw some significant achievements that included routine achievements that we believe invaluable to the clients and community as well as extraordinary achievements resulting from skill, hard work, and dedication. The routine achievements are important because these are tied to the grinding daily work of seeing that clients get quick hearings and consideration for reasonable bonds and dismissal of frivolous charges so that they do not sit in jails racking up costs for the community and suffering when they should not be incarcerated. Our office is well known for getting clients brought down for consideration of bond reduction and dismissal of frivolous charges. Our relationship with the jail liaison, the prosecutors, the magistrates, the circuit court judges, the court staff, and other county officials, has resulted in a partnership that recognizes the importance of prompt hearings and fair determinations of bonds and charges. We play a crucial role in being available 24/7 so that cases can move quickly when appropriate.

The extraordinary achievements for the year include winning substantive arguments related to alleged dying declarations and res gestae. Both are issues which the State expected to easily win. It is important to note that the Case Maker program made available by the West Virginia State Bar was the central research tool used in winning these arguments against prosecutors who were using other research tools which they incorrectly believed to be up to date. Additionally, arguments were won limiting the State's ability to wrongfully stack charges in a case involving complicated computer downloading issues and a case involving stacking a Mirandized statement on top of an un-Mirandized statement.

COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT

Members of our team are not just people who show up and do office work, go home and never contribute to our community. The following is certainly not all-inclusive examples, but merely meant to give a few examples about the Chief and some of the other members of the team.

Dwayne is on the Day Report Board and the Drug Court Team which have obvious relationships to the office and clients, as well as significant positive impact to the community. The Southwestern Regional Day Report is one of the most successful programs and money savers in the State and Drug Court continues to give people who have been crushed by the disease of addiction another chance at saving their lives. Having a Public Defender voice on these boards has proven invaluable. Dwayne is also a member of the Logan County Library Board because he realizes literacy is one of the keys to keeping a community from sinking further into poverty. Community Service by Day Report Clients at the Library is a new project for this fiscal year and has proven very successful thus far.

Dwayne was also a Buddy League Basketball Coach this past fiscal year with the 4 to 7 age group. His team went out with a win and he got to know and interact with the athletic and school community in a positive way doing everything from coaching, to selling tickets, and doing janitorial work.

Pam Esposito continues to be part of the Paw Squad animal rescue team and maintains her reputation as a voice for unwanted and abused animals in Logan County. She helps care for the animals and participates in many fund-raising endeavors.

Intern Anna Butcher opened for Kelly Pickler at Freedom Festival and played a big role in organizing the entire fourth of July event for the City of Logan.

Other members of the Office like Don and Carol are active members in their Church and in their neighborhoods. They interact with members of the community, have lunches and meetings, and fellowship.

A CRUCIAL TEAM TO THE LOCAL CRIMINAL JUSTICE SYSTEM

We would like to end this year's narrative by stating that we believe we are crucial to the fair and equal administration of justice here in our county. Quick and timely hearings by skilled attorneys is central to the criminal justice system. Being quickly available for complicated legal arguments as well as simple bond reductions defines who we are, and we have worked hard to get a reputation where clients (and their family members), Judges, Magistrates, and Prosecutors can call us, and we act to immediately help the poor who need their Constitutional rights protected. People need someone standing in their corner in what seems like overwhelming circumstances—that's what we do.

Dwayne Adkins,
Chief Public Defender

Public Defender Corporation for the Eighth Judicial Circuit

The 8th Judicial Public Defender Corporation opened in 1990, now in the 28th year with three attorneys and two office staff. McDowell County has a great need for legal representation for those who are indigent due to our devastating economy.

Our office handles the following types of cases: felony, misdemeanor, abuse and neglect, juvenile delinquency, truancy, appeals of felonies and misdemeanors, mental hygiene, guardian ad litem, extraditions, and servers on drug court and the community corrections board (day report).

Chief Defender, Floyd A. Anderson, is a native of McDowell County. He earned his degree in Psychology from West Virginia University in 1988, and his law degree from Southern University Law Center in 1992 and became a member of the WV State Bar in 1994. Mr. Anderson joined the office in 1995 and became Chief Defender in 1998. Mr. Anderson handles a variety of complex felony cases including first degree murder, armed robbery, and sexual assault cases.

Robert E. Blair is a native of McDowell County and joined our office in 2003. He had a private practice for many years and served as the Family Law Master. He has been a member of the WV bar since 1956, 62 years and counting! Mr. Blair reached his 90th birthday in January and retirement is nowhere in sight!

Brittany R. Puckett is a native of McDowell County. She earned her law degree from Appalachian Law School and was admitted to the WV bar in October 2013. Prior to joining our office, Miss Puckett was employed by the McDowell County Board of Education for three years as a teacher for the 3rd and 5th grades and a volleyball coach. This is her third year with our office. She handles felony, misdemeanor, juvenile delinquency, abuse and neglect, truancy, mental hygiene hearings, extraditions, and drug court. She is also a member of the Drug Court Treatment Team and serves the WV Bar Association as a member of the Fee Dispute Committee. She is an active member in the community as well.

Kimberly Cox is currently in her 24th year with the office, joining the office as secretary in 1994 and moving to the office manager position in 1997. Kim manages the attendance and leave records for the employees, verifies funding, processes invoices and payroll, as well as many other administrative duties.

Robin Oakley, Secretary, is in her 10th year with the office. Prior to joining us, she worked as a magistrate assistant, a deputy circuit clerk, and a legal secretary. She handles all phases of the secretarial duties, such as contacting the client, opening files, scheduling appointments, managing the calendar, and ensuring that the attorneys know where he or she needs to be and when.

Floyd Anderson,
Chief Public Defender

Public Defender Corporation for the Ninth Judicial Circuit

The Public Defender Corporation for the Ninth Judicial Circuit recently completed its 27th year of operation. Our office currently has six attorneys and six support staff positions with one vacancy for an attorney position. Mercer County has three Circuit Judges, five magistrates, and two Municipal Courts; in which we appear on behalf of defendants. We represent defendants charged with felonies, and misdemeanors; and we represent juveniles, in various proceedings, and usually parents, in abuse and neglect cases. Mercer County continues to have one of the highest abuse and neglect caseloads in the state

We have recently welcomed Rebecca Powers and Sheila Beggs to our support staff. Our office obtained hundreds of dismissals this past year. One well publicized case that was dismissed involved a defendant charged with fleeing from an officer while operating a vehicle, causing death and driving while impaired, causing death. The attorneys also secured acquittals in various jury and bench trials. Our attorneys continue to utilize deferred adjudications and drug treatment for our clients. Jaime Arnold oversees placement for our clients in Drug Treatment Facilities.

We serve on the Southern Regional Community Criminal Justice Board which monitors the operations at the Day Report Center. The office also serves on the Adult Drug Court and Juvenile Drug Court, which involves intensive treatment and extensive court monitoring. Substantial drug abuse problems permeate a large percentage of our cases. The Courts in Mercer County have tried to be proactive in dealing with the drug epidemic by utilizing these alternatives. Recently a new drug facility for women just opened for our county.

Tracy Burkes,
Chief Public Defender

Public Defender Corporation for the Tenth Judicial Circuit

It was the best of times, it was the worst of times, it was the age of wisdom, it was the age of foolishness, it was the epoch of belief, it was the epoch of incredulity, it was the season of Light, it was the season of Darkness, it was the spring of hope, it was the winter of despair, we had everything before us, we had nothing before us, we were all going direct to Heaven, we were all going direct the other way - in short, the period was so far like the present period, that some of its noisiest authorities insisted on its being received, for good or for evil, in the superlative degree of comparison only.—A Tale of Two Cities

The State has gone through several years of financial difficulty (the worst of times). Obviously, West Virginia has suffered from a stagnate economy and reduced revenues over the past years but the optimism of our legislature and governor in the future led to a general increase of salaries of all state employees of five (5%) percent this year. Public defenders and their staff are not considered State employees so such compensation to the State was not passed on to these employees that also receive no longevity pay to which State employees are entitled. Crime continues to increase, the responsibility and demands in representing criminal defendants increases, and little recognition is made of the contribution that Public Defender Corporations and their employees make by decreasing the cost to the State, Counties, and Municipalities where they are located.

The 10th Circuit Public Defender Corporation Office is located at 220 N. Kanawha Street Suite 2 Beckley WV, 25801, where it has been for the past two and a half years. The office has one of the most experienced collection of attorneys in the State, with an average of 23 years of legal experience, consisting of a chief defender, Joseph A Noggy, and eight other Staff Attorneys namely: Gary W. Frasher, Marcia L. Hebb, Kris N. Kostenko, Robert D. Goldberg, Wilbert A. Payne, Thomas Moore, Sarah F. Smith and Patrick W. Brooks. Last year the office closed a total of 2,626 cases in Raleigh County, consisting of 614 Felonies, and 1,250 misdemeanors. Each lawyer handled, on average, a little more than 290 cases last year. This is in excess of the Standards as recommended by the American Bar Association but no Counsel in the office can shirk their duty to provide the best possible defense for each of their clients.

The average cost per case in Fiscal Year 2017 was $498.41 compared to appointed counsel's charges for this circuit, of $1,091.52 per case. The office handles about 73.5% of all cases in the circuit while receiving about 56% of the funds distributed by the Public Defender Services for the 10th Circuit.

Office Staff

If not for our staff of six full time and one-part time assistant, it would be impossible to keep our records and clients served effectively and efficiently. They are the backbone of the office.

Susan Delp has been with us for more than 20 years and is the staff manager for the office. She not only supervises staff but also acts as the secretary for the chief public defender and performs all the administrative secretarial duties.

Susan is aided by Melanie Ellison, Sharon Owens, Donnita Marks, and Allison Hamm. Angela Adkins is our Receptionist/Time Matters data entry person. Nichola Campbell acts as our part-time receptionist and, in addition to her receptionist duties, she assists Angela in inputting data and scanning documents.

Louis Briguglio might be our greatest asset and the best bargain to ever serve the Public Defender Services. He acts as the Bookkeeper, computer networking guru, and office manager. He has done such a superb job at our office that he now does accounting services and reports for four other Public Defender Corporations. He has worked at this office since 1996 and is indispensable to the office operation.

Lawyers

Clients have the advantage of being represented by a team of experienced lawyers who meet regularly to discuss various cases. The Office maintains a form bank of motions and pleadings that was recently supplemented by a state-wide form bank established with cooperation of other Public Defender Corporations throughout the state. The office is capable of running paperless since all documents received or produced are scanned digitally. This should help in the near future since the Supreme Court and Circuit Courts are moving towards a digital system.

In addition to the misdemeanor and felony cases, the lawyers handle juvenile, abuse and neglect, mental hygiene, probation, parole, habeas corpus, and appeals. Lawyers also work in related county programs that impact defendants by providing alternatives to incarceration. These programs provide valuable resources to defendants but when created did not provide funding for defense attorney's compensation. These programs and specialized courts aimed at providing services to defendants while decreasing the cost of incarceration to the State and county but, just as in the case of every other Public Defender Corporation, such savings are not reflective of any increase to the corporation despite the increased burden on lawyers. These duties are also not reflected in the evaluation of cost effectiveness of public defender corporations compared to other court appointed counsel which only looks at case numbers and not uncompensated services. A partial list of these extracurricular obligations includes such matters as Patrick Brooks who serves as the representative for defense attorneys on the Veterans Court. Joseph Noggy participates as board member on Adult Drug Court. With the exception of Joseph Noggy, each lawyer represents clients before Truancy Court. Joseph Noggy and Marcia Hebb also are on Board members Raleigh County Community Corrections Board which assists in operating the county Day Report Center, Drug Court and Home Confinement Programs. Joseph Noggy and Tom Moore also meet weekly with members of the day report center, Prosecuting Attorney's office and the other agencies to reduce jail cost by granting reduced bond or personal recognizance bonds to appropriate defendants.

Office Operations

Lawyer schedules are kept electronically on Time Matters as well as on desk calendars as it has been done for the past few years. All lawyers have access to Time Matters to keep their time and to check their calendar. Attorneys can access their files through the E-File Program as well as through the hard copy maintained in their office. Closed files can also be accessed through the E-

File program. Cases over the past 16 years have been scanned, reducing the need for storage of those documents. Backups of all records are maintained on and off premises insuring their survival. Periodic reviews are made of files and inquiries made of staff and lawyers to ensure that the services we provide to our clients is effective and qualitative. Lawyers continually meet to discuss issues and procedures with an eye towards improving the quality of their representation.

The Office opened in 1989, making it one of the oldest Public Defender Corporations in the State.

A new Chief Public Defender will be hired by the end of the calendar year as Joseph Noggy will be retiring at the end of the calendar year. Obviously, this will cause some time to adjust to new management philosophy but with the current staff and experience held by the staff attorneys there should be no loss in the dedication and quality of representation provided to our clients.

Jane Calvert currently acts a Chairperson for the 10th Circuit Public Defender Corporation Board of Directors. In addition to Ms. Calvert, Board members include John Wooton, Leigh Lefler, and Harriet Jones. Each of those Board members have served in their capacity for a minimum of five years and have recently been joined by our newest appointee the Bishop Fred Simms. Bishop Simms has been active for years in our community and received The Spirit of Beckley Award for his work.

Joe Noggy,
Chief Public Defender

Public Defender Corporation for the Eleventh Judicial Circuit

Our office opened in 1999 with the goal of providing high quality and cost-effective criminal defense to the citizens of Greenbrier and Pocahontas Counties. While the basics, caring about your clients, investigating your cases, and being prepared for court have not changed since 1999, the rest of the criminal defense practice has changed dramatically.

West Virginia's place at the center of the opioid crisis has left everyone in the criminal justice system struggling for solutions and the 11th Judicial Circuit has been a leader in innovating and adopting new solutions. Chief Defender Joshua Edwards and Deputy Chief Defender Dewitt Daniell both serve on the advisory committee for Greenbrier County's Day Report Program. Joshua Edwards and Laura Spadaro both serve as members of the drug court treatment team in Pocahontas County and Dewitt Daniell serves as a member of the treatment team in Greenbrier County. In addition to their formal role, Public Defenders serve as informal advisers on policy matters and legal questions as they arise.

The attorneys and staff are:

Joshua L. Edwards, Chief Defender

Joshua Edwards is the Chief Defender for Greenbrier and Pocahontas Counties that together make up the 11th Judicial Circuit. Mr. Edwards was appointed to the Indigent Defense Commission by Governor Justice in April of 2017. This year the IDC approved criminal defense standards that should reinforce West Virginia's already robust indigent defense system. Mr. Edwards was also appointed to the Fire Service Fee Appeals Board by the city of Lewisburg.

He, and the assistant defenders in the 11th Judicial Circuit, continue to implement treatment-based programs as alternatives to the warehousing that occurs with incarceration. Mr. Edwards states "I'm proud of the efforts we've made with the Public Defender Corporation, Drug Court, and Day Report Programs to combat the addiction epidemic and restore individuals to their community".

In addition to his duties as Chief Public Defender, Mr. Edwards serves on the Community Corrections Advisory Board in both Greenbrier and Pocahontas Counties. He also serves on the Pocahontas County Drug Court treatment team and is a frequent contributor to both formal and informal efforts to improve the criminal justice system. Mr. Edwards enjoys the challenges of the courtroom and getting to know his clients as human beings so that he can tell their story and help them write a better conclusion. He indicates "As my children have gotten older and more involved in community events, I realize the impact my work has on children and the community as a whole. Every time I go to a parent night at the school, I see parents with their children who would not be able to be there without the Public Defender Corporation. It is particularity rewarding when you know that you were able to arrange for the parent to complete drug court or rehab and you know that they're not only with their child, but able to be a great parent to that child."

Outside of work, Joshua is married to Lara. They have three sons who keep them running non-stop. Joshua serves as a coach and board member for the Greenbrier United Soccer, previously served as assistant commissioner and coach for the Greenbrier Valley Athletic Association of the first and second grade basketball league, and was a coach for the GROW basketball league. Joshua is active in the Lewisburg United Methodist Church, having served as a Youth Group leader and on various committees from the Communications Team to the Trustees.

Dewitt W. Daniell, Deputy Chief Defender

Dewitt W. Daniell, Deputy Chief, has served as a public defender in West Virginia for 22 years, since 1996. He worked in Raleigh County for five years, and then relocated to Greenbrier County in 2001. Prior to his experience in West Virginia, he was licensed in North Carolina after graduating from Campbell University School of Law in 1987, and engaged in private practice for nine years in Asheville, NC. His experience includes defending criminal cases, both felonies and misdemeanors, representing juveniles, and advocating for parents accused of abuse or neglect. In addition to his primary responsibilities of representing clients, Dewitt has been active in bringing community corrections to the 11th Judicial Circuit. He has served on the Community Corrections Advisory Board from its inception, and he is currently a member of the Drug Court treatment team. He continues to serve on the PDS committee charged with producing and maintaining a motions manual.

As a former school teacher, he has maintained an interest in working with high school aged kids; he has presented programs on a number of occasions having to do with the juvenile justice system, and the criminal law at Greenbrier East High School. In his time away from work, Dewitt enjoys playing bluegrass banjo with friends in and around Pocahontas and Greenbrier counties. He has played at the Lewisburg United Methodist Church on numerous occasions, Pocahontas County Community Centers, WellSpring of Greenbrier County, and a number of fundraising events throughout southeastern West Virginia. Mr. Daniell is the recipient of the 2012 Dambro Award as the Outstanding West Virginia Public Defender.

He has been married for 25 years and has a son who is 24 years old.

Steve K. Paragamian, Assistant Public Defender

Steve serves primarily as the Assistant Public Defender assigned to Greenbrier County Magistrate Court. He relates that:

Steve Paragamian

As a lawyer I used to say: "There's a legal side and a human side to cases. The legal side concerns my work, almost solely in Magistrate Court. Our caseload has increased somewhat since last year, and I am kept busy interviewing clients and trying to help craft solutions to get their lives back on track. Each person is different, with a different problem to solve, and with a different background. Sadly, our area is plagued by massive unemployment, leading to problems with DUI, domestic abuse, and rampant abuse of opioids and methamphetamine. It is often heart-rending to come to work and view some of the ravages my clients have undergone.

On the human side, I've scaled back some of my community involvement. I no longer volunteer at the animal shelter, though I recently adopted 'Dusty', a handsome grey cat who has been there, apparently, longer than any other feline in their history. He proudly wrestles with his two other fur babies when he walks in the door at five o'clock. Our cases often read like tragic novels, and I am working, in my spare time, on a book of stories. A friend of Mom's family, back in Richland Center, wrote a series of stories titled 'Sauk Prairie People' and I hope to emulate him.

We don't always say it down here, but we do appreciate the support we have gotten from Charleston in the past. Sometimes, it makes the difference between hope and despair for our clients."

Lia Billings, Assistant Public Defender

Lia Billings is the newest addition to the Lewisburg PD office, having previously worked for Legal Aid in Huntington, West Virginia. She is a proud graduate of the West Virginia University College of Law, having also obtained her bachelor's degree from WVU. During her time at the WVU COL, she worked diligently as a student-attorney on the Innocence Project. Her team was able to prevail at an omnibus hearing for a man who had been convicted on a theory of "Shaken Baby Syndrome." After serving over eleven years of a forty-year sentence, his conviction was vacated and he was able to go back home with his family. Lia handles the abuse and neglect and juvenile cases in the office, and truly believes she has found her life's calling.

When she isn't working, she enjoys swimming in the river with her dog, playing Nintendo with her husband, and relaxing.

Laura Spadaro, Assistant Public Defender

The last twelve months has been a blur. However, the 2018 Public Defender Conference was the best that I have attended. From my perspective, the speakers were more informative and the organization of the conference was smoother than in previous years. As for noteworthy events here in Pocahontas County, things do seem to be looking up for community corrections/drug court in that the community seems to continue to become more supportive. There are more community-based programs for addiction recovery sprouting up in the county. I guess it just takes time since society has been focused on punishment for so long in the criminal justice system. A leaf slowly turning perhaps. I still volunteer with Pocahontas Artisans. Otherwise, I do a lot of bike riding when I am not spending time in Court while at work. It's been a lovely summer up here.

Yevette Shafer, Office Manager

Yevette started with the Public Defender Corporation as a secretary in 2009 and assumed her duties as Office Manager in 2011. Outside of the office she is active in her church and community. Yevette serves as a church representative on many levels, including state and national. Her desire is to retire in a few years and continue her work in the mission field at home and abroad. She graduated from The School of Christian Studies in October 2016 with her degree in Pastoral Ministry. Yevette occasionally speaks at Sunday afternoon services at a nursing home and at evening services at a low-income apartment complex.

Yevette on a mission trip.

In July of this year, Yevette attended the World Mission Conference where she re-connected with several missionaries serving internationally. Future mission trips are being considered with open invitations to South Africa and Thailand. One of the things that rings true in our communities, state, nation and world is "The harvest is plentiful, but the laborers are few".

Yevette is currently working with a group at Shuck Memorial Baptist Church to finalize the plans and implement The Life Recovery program this fall. It will focus on addressing the struggles with addictions, struggles in life, depression, and anxieties. The group has met with The Greenbrier County Drug Court-Day Report representatives to gain information on how to best serve the needs of people dealing with addictions. She will serve as one of eight mentors in the group.

Madora Smith, Secretary

Madora joined the Public Defender Corporation in 2014 but became familiar with the Court system prior to that as a CASA (Court Appointed Special Advocate) volunteer. CASA volunteers serve as a voice to children in the abuse and neglect system. As such, they investigate cases and attend court hearings. She relates that "During my off time I am a wife, mother, and grandma. My family actively participates in the First Baptist Church of Huntersville, WV. I am blessed to be in a family that has a diverse range of interests from Track & Field to Classical Piano."

Lois Airgood, Secretary

Lois has been with the Public Defender Corporation since 2015, having previously worked as a legal assistant for a private practitioner working with social security and black lung cases. Lois had a variety of careers prior to joining the Public Defender Corporation. She worked as a computer consultant for MCI telecommunications, the United States Supreme Court and the Georgia Supreme Court. Lois also ran a small computer support firm, Evergreen Apps and was the owner/operator of Yew Mountain Lodge in Hillsboro, West Virginia. She has also served as a volunteer music instructor for the Hillsboro Elementary School.

Joshua Edwards,
Chief Public Defender

Public Defender Corporation for the Twelfth Judicial Circuit

"Man Down"

As the fiscal year drew to a close the primary thought that remained was "Thank God we are part of a solid Public Defender Office". This year has been one that has reinforced our need to rely on each other to keep the representation of our clients and our obligations to the Courts consistent every day.

So many times this year one or more of our office has had to be away for personal and/or family reasons. This year our office has had: two Mothers who need almost daily assistance to live independently; aging Fathers living alone and in need of time with their sons; two kids in braces; one playing football; a cheerleader on a competition team; two playing soccer; one playing volleyball; a number of math team members; science and social studies projects that advanced past regionals; gallbladder surgery with complications that demanded significant hospitalization; the final illness of a Mother; a grandson mauled by a dog; a case of shingles; pneumonia; three theatric productions; a band competition; an eye infection; everyone had the flu at least once; all over and above the more common illnesses, dentist and doctor appointments and blood work.

We are an office that on any given day can have hearings scheduled before two of our four Magistrates and both of our Circuit Judges. So even when all of us (and ours) are healthy, we often must cover hearings and office appointments for each other. This is done without sacrificing the quality of our client's representation only because we work closely together every day and are aware of everyone's cases. We know, because we have discussed them, the primary issues in the cases. We know because we have discussed them, and the personal quirks of some clients which require a certain style in working with them.

I am left to wonder how any of us would have managed any year, but this one especially, if sole practitioners. At a Chief's meeting earlier in the year we had a presentation by the impaired lawyers' director. An alarming number of attorneys suffer from addiction, depression and other mental illnesses brought on, at least in part, by the stress of practicing law.

I don't suggest that we are immune to such stress. I do know, however, that the possibility of such stress leading to career ending complications is minimized because of where we work. We are able to be lawyers or staff members for the Fayette County Public Defender Office and are able to be mothers, fathers, wives, husbands, daughters, sons, and friends year after year. Thank God we are part of a solid, supportive Public Defender Office.

Nancy Fraley
Chief Public Defender

Public Defender Corporation for the Thirteenth Judicial Circuit

The Public Defender Corporation for the Thirteenth Judicial Circuit (Kanawha County Public Defender Office) prides itself in providing client-centered representation to indigent individuals. Opened as a full-scale office in 1989 with the mission of providing legal services to individuals facing criminal charges in Kanawha County, the Office has created a positive presence in our court system by employing a staff that vigorously represents our clients and strives to protect their rights.

Located in West Virginia's capital city and having always served many clients, during the 17/18 fiscal year the Office was appointed to represent clients in 6,870 new cases. The Office currently employs 23 full-time lawyers, 1 part-time senior counsel, and 15 support staff to represent people in the following types of cases: felony, misdemeanor, municipal court, juvenile, appellate, revocation (parole, probation, and home confinement), extradition, mental hygiene, child support contempt, and drug court. Our lawyers appear before seven circuit court judges, ten magistrates, municipal court judges, family law judges, mental hygiene commissioners, and Supreme Court of Appeals justices.

Our dedicated legal staff has had many victories over the years, successfully lodging challenges to the court system, securing acquittals and dismissals, helping clients overcome addiction problems, and securing favorable sentences. Our helpful and knowledgeable support staff, comprised of equally dedicated individuals, helps us provide effective representation to our clients.

Our dedicated legal staff also participates in a variety of legal and community services. Some of the activities our lawyers are involved in include:

- Serving as a member and participating in the National Legal Aid and Defender Association (NLADA)
- Serving as a member and participating in the National and West Virginia DUIDLAs (DUI defense lawyer associations)
- Serving on the West Virginia State Bar Criminal Law Committee and other State Bar Committees
- Serving as a member on the Kanawha County Community Corrections Advisory Board
- Serving as a member of the CARE (Call to Action for Racial Equality) Coalition
- Serving on the MCLE Commission
- Serving on the Bail Reform Committee organized by the WV-ACLU
- Serving on the West Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals Community Supervision Committee
- Serving on the West Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals Prison Overcrowding Compliance Commission
- Participating in training for Kanawha County Drug and Veteran Courts
- Giving legal presentations in various settings on several law topics
- Publishing articles on a variety of legal topics
- Participating in legislative task forces

- Participating in national Gideon's Promise training
- Serving as a board member for the Mid-Atlantic Juvenile Defender Center
- Serving as a volunteer for Lawyers Without Borders
- Participating in the West Virginia Women Attorney's Association
- Offering various levels of support for local schools
- Serving as a judge for We The People
- Participating in local theater productions
- Serving as a board member and chorister with the West Virginia Symphony Orchestra
- Participating in the Race to End Racism
- Volunteering for ARTBAR (A Reason To Believe Animal Rescue) and other animal rescue organizations and animal shelters.

We also pride ourselves on our summer internship program, which has enabled law students to gain invaluable legal experience.

Diana Panucci
Chief Public Defender

Public Defender Corporation for the Fifteenth Judicial Circuit

The Public Defender Corporation for the Fifteenth Judicial Circuit has continued to strive to make a positive impact in the lives of our clients and in the community we serve. The staff currently consists of five attorneys and seven support staff.

In the fall of 2017, attorney Lorena Litten left our office to further pursue her public service with a Federal Public Defenders Office. Lorena's resignation letter noted how blessed our office was to employ some of the best attorneys she had ever had the pleasure of working with, and she would miss us. She further noted she had been presented with an opportunity she could not pass up. Her new position offered more pay, better benefits, and more opportunities to advance her career goals. She noted the compensation for federal public defenders as opposed to those employed at the state level is completely incomparable. She was of the opinion that until the disparity between how hard state public defenders work and how much compensation is received is corrected, offices will continue to lose attorneys who would be otherwise happy to stay. We have missed her.

In the late spring of 2018, we welcomed paralegal Nicole Warner to our staff. Nicole's former employment included work with a nonprofit who provided low income West Virginians access to the civil justice system, and work within the State and Federal criminal justice systems. Her experience has been most beneficial to our mission.

The office saw a breath of fresh ideas and enthusiasm by way of intern Rob "Jared" Lowe in the summer of 2017. Jared had the pleasure of practicing under Rule 10 prior to returning to the West Virginia College of Law for this third year.

During the past year, the attorneys and support staff have not and cannot overlook the drug crisis that impacts the civil and criminal practice of law. We continue to focus our efforts on building, maintaining, and enhancing relationships with local mental health providers, drug treatment facilities, the local PITAR group (Prevention, Intervention, Treatment and Recovery), and the outreach program of the Louis A. Johnson Veterans Hospital located in Clarksburg, WV, as the majority of our clients are in crisis.

In addition to the "legal work", the office began improving our information technology by upgrading and updating some software and hardware to better increase office efficiency and to better insure the confidentiality of client records. We began to deal with file storage issues and record retention issues. Our appreciation and thanks go out to the Harrison County Community Corrections Program for the community service volunteers who moved box, after box, after box.

In the coming year we will continue to provide those charged with a crime in Harrison County who are unable to afford counsel their Sixth Amendment right to competent counsel.

Our office consists of a Chief Public Defender, two associate staff attorneys, and two support personnel. We consider our staff our greatest asset in serving to meet the needs of our indigent population through our representation in their cases and consequently our brief involvement in their lives and the lives of their families. As a single judge circuit, our appointments are made by Judge Steven L. Shaffer for felonies and misdemeanors in Magistrate and Circuit Courts. We are also involved in most juvenile matters in our Circuit, as well as some abuse and neglect cases. We also represent clients involved in mental hygiene proceedings. All three attorneys share equally in every category of cases we are assigned.

Our current office staff:

- Sally C. Collins, Chief Public Defender since January 2015. She has served as a staff attorney in our office since 2005. Prior to this she was an Assistant Prosecutor, conducted a private law practice, and was a secondary mathematics teacher.
- Claire L. Niehaus, Assistant Public Defender since 2002. Her prior experience includes clerking for the Logan County Circuit Court and serving as a staff attorney for the Logan County Public Defender Office.
- Lisa R. Hyre, Assistant Public Defender as of January 2015. She served as an attorney for Morgantown Legal Aide and conducted a private legal practice here in Preston County. She is also a licensed social worker.
- Wanda L. Miller, Secretary since November 2015. She has previous experience as a bank teller/customer service representative for 21 years. Wanda has also held secretarial duties with her church and band boosters over the years. She is very active in raising funds for two local scholarships, the Preston County Humane Society, and in her church.
- Judy L. Starcher, Office Manager since June 2015. Judy has had previous experience in the County Clerk's Office as well as several years as Office Manager for private industries. Judy is also an Honorably Discharged Veteran having served in the U.S. Navy.

The Public Defender attorneys have served on the Board of Directors for the Community Corrections since its beginning. Lisa Hyre currently serves on its Board. The attorneys are also active with our Adult Drug Court. Claire L. Niehaus participated in the establishment of the Drug Court and currently serves on its local Advisory Board. Sally Collins currently serves on the Drug Court Team. The attorneys and staff are members of various organizations and participate in community events in Preston and Monongalia Counties.

Sally Collins,
Chief Public Defender

Public Defender Corporation for the Twenty-third Judicial Circuit

The Mission of the Eastern Panhandle Public Defender Office (EPPDO) is to provide competent, thoroughly professional legal representation to the indigent criminally accused in all Courts in the Twenty-third (23rd) Judicial Circuit of West Virginia in an efficient, cost-effective manner when appointed to do so by competent judicial authority.

Our clientele primarily consists of defendants in criminal matters at the felony and misdemeanor levels in Circuit and Magistrate Court, but the obligation to provide professional, competent legal representation extends to and includes appointments to represent offending respondents in parental rights termination matters ("abuse and neglect" cases), Family Law Court contempt proceedings, juvenile offender matters and mental hygiene involuntary commitment proceedings, as well as appellate matters at various levels when assigned to do so by a Court, to include prosecuting appeals in the WV Supreme Court of Appeals.

The EPPDO office responsibilities include all the courts in all three county jurisdictions in the Eastern Panhandle (Berkeley, Jefferson and Morgan), as well as seven individual municipal courts in various towns throughout the Panhandle, particularly Martinsburg's Municipal Court. Our two separate offices are located in Martinsburg, which covers all matters in Berkeley and Morgan counties, and a satellite office in Charles Town, which handles all matters in Jefferson County. In Fiscal Year 2016, the office handled 4,448 individual, discrete cases and we are currently on pace to exceed that total in 2017, due to a combination of population growth, as well as the easing of financial eligibility guidelines that dictate and control the availability of court-appointed counsel.

Established nearly thirty years ago and operating continuously since, we are the second largest Public Defender Corporation in West Virginia, with a staff of 33 individuals: 20 licensed attorneys and 13 clerical support staff members and investigators. The team at the EPPDO is a committed, dedicated crew, truly devoted to ensuring that our clients of all types are treated justly: we fiercely protect the rights of poor, often powerless and are somehow enmeshed in other legal difficulties touching upon fundamental rights, thus ensuring that the criminal justice system is administered fairly, remains open, accessible and even-handed -- and is perceived as such by the general public and citizenry that we serve. We ensure that the everyday-person accused of wrongdoing by a powerful government and police apparatus is not overwhelmed and unduly intimidated and that his or her voice and "side of the story" is told by a tenacious, professional advocate committed to his or her cause. As Chief Public Defender, and a veteran of nearly twenty years in the trenches at the EPPDO, I am supremely confident that we are well-regarded and respected by all the judges and opposing counsel in our bailiwick. We are the proverbial "overworked and underpaid" public servants: despite staggering caseloads —well above and greatly surpassing ABA guideline levels - and extremely low compensation relative to our peers in the local prosecutors' offices, we enjoy very low turnover among the staff and have accrued a level of experience and expertise unrivaled in the State: a devoted team of career Public Defenders serving the State and her people and Courts.

Tom Delaney,
Chief Public Defender

Public Defender Corporation for the Twenty-fifth Judicial Circuit

The Public Defender Corporation for the Twenty-Fifth Judicial Circuit serves both Boone and Lincoln counties. The combined effort of six attorneys and four office support staff is credited with overseeing approximately 1200 cases annually. Each client presents a unique set of circumstances and our offices work diligently to provide individualized and effective legal representation to all. Enough cannot be said for the tremendous effort and determination our folks put forth every day.

Our attorneys, not unlike most other indigent defenders, have observed an increased proportion of clients with behavioral health issues underlying the criminal offense for which we are appointed. Statistics support this trend in Boone County and other West Virginia counties alike. Based on 2014 data collected by the West Virginia Department of Health and Human Resources, Boone County residents rank:

- 4th in the state for drug overdose deaths;
- 5th in the state for drug related diagnosis;
- 19th in the state for alcohol related diagnosis; and
- 21st in the state for suicide mortality rate

These figures underscore a growing necessity in Boone County to interweave mental health treatment into individualized criminal representation. Our clients' struggles with behavioral health issues, predominantly drug abuse disorder, and the resultant cyclical run-ins with law enforcement further evidence an imperativeness to reduce recidivism through rehabilitation.

That being said, in 2016 the United Way of Central West Virginia (UWCWV) conducted a rigorous community needs assessment and analysis. As a result, the UWCWV identified substance abuse as an impact area for which grant funding would be made available to programs operating to reduce the area's substance abuse epidemic. Upon completion of a competitive application process, our Boone County office was selected as a recipient of funding.

Mallory Sutphin, Recovery Coach

Made possible entirely as a result of UWCWV's grant funding, the Boone County Public Defender's Office now employs a part-time Recovery Coach. With a reference point of shared experience, our Recovery Coach, Mallory Sutphin, works directly with clients to identify drug abuse disorders, link individuals with treatment, and bridge the gap between referral and admission where client interest in drug treatment is often lost.

Mallory's story, as it pertains to the Public Defender's office, is a fascinating one. Our Boone County office, in April of 2016, received court appointment to represent Mallory in a felony matter. Following an unsuccessful stint on probation – the result of failed drug screens, Mallory entered the Drug Court program. Mallory emerged as a leader among her Drug Court peers. Prior to graduation and of her own accord, Mallory obtained training and certification as a Recovery Coach.

Mallory's graduation from Drug Court with Recovery Coach certification and one year of sobriety could not have been timelier. Having just received UWCWV Recovery Coach funding, Mallory seemed a natural fit for our program. From client to employee – Mallory truly has come full circle within our office. She is an example of what can be achieved when a person is not given up on – not by herself, the courts, or the attorneys representing her. Recently, Kate Snow of NBC Nightly News traveled to Boone County for a sit-down interview with Mallory about her personal story of recovery. It is our hope that positive portrayals of recovery like this will reframe the often-times negative public perception common place to drug addiction and rehabilitation.

Mallory's personal experiences in the criminal justice system have brought a unique perspective and understanding to the representation we provide, and client response has been positive. In just the first three months of our program's infancy, Mallory has engaged over 40 clients and has successfully implemented treatment plans of varying types in greater than 30 misdemeanor, felony, and abuse/neglect cases. Undoubtedly, Mallory's assistance has achieved an increased rate of client entry into substance abuse treatment programs. The perceived result of which has been the achievement of alternative sentences, reunification of families, and almost certainly in the long-term shall include reduced recidivism.

Troy Adams,
Chief Public Defender

Public Defender Corporation for the Twenty-eighth Judicial Circuit

The 28th Judicial Circuit Public Defender Corporation in Summersville was first established in 1983, making it the first public defender corporation in the state.

D. Mark Snyder, who passed away this year, was the first public defender employee in West Virginia. When he moved to Charleston, Cynthia Stanton was hired in October 1987. For the first seven years, Ms. Stanton was the only public defender in Nicholas County. In 1994, a decision in Charleston was made to hire an assistant public defender to work with Ms. Stanton and in the last twenty-four years, six attorneys have held this position. Sarah Campbell was hired and began working in October 2013, and practices with a focus in abuse and neglect proceedings and juvenile matters. The 28th Judicial Circuit Public Defender has two attorneys and two administrative assistants. Kathy O'Dell has worked in the office for twenty-one years and now serves as the office manager. Theresa Cartwright began working for our corporation in 2015, after working many years in other law offices. Ms. Stanton is the longest serving public defender in the state, and is responsible for all misdemeanor and felony cases served by this office, unless an abuse and neglect client is charged criminally.

The 28th Judicial Circuit Public Defender Corporation has maintained an annual caseload of approximately 500-600 cases per year since Ms. Stanton has taken over. This office has been responsible for indigent representation in all areas of criminal defense eligible proceedings. Our office handles approximately 70% of all criminal applicants that are appointed in the county. We handle all mental hygiene hearings during work hours and at night unless we have a conflict. The attorneys handle all court appointments unless there is a co-defendant or similar conflict. Ms. Stanton appears in Family Court when appointed by the Family Court Judge. Drug Court was established in July 2016 and is currently active with over twenty (20) participants. We had a ceremony for our first 3 drug court graduates in May and we are in the process of trying to locate and setup a sober living house in Nicholas County. Ms. Stanton serves on the advisory committee and treatment team who meets weekly with the participants. Ms. Stanton is a member of the Board of Directors for the Community Corrections Board that oversees the Day Report Center and recently served as President until October 2017.

Our office has always had each attorney prepared and ready to conduct any kind of criminal work. Every attorney that has left the office is typically prepared to handle all types of criminal proceedings. The ability to accomplish this is based upon necessity as our Circuit only elects one judge and our attorneys must be available for all proceedings during the weekdays, weeknights, and weekends. In fact, several of our attorneys have subsequently served as assistant prosecutors, and of the five former assistant public defenders, one currently serves as the Chief Prosecuting Attorney in their circuit. This past year Ms. Stanton had a bench trial on a first-degree murder case in which the victim was placed in a freezer for several weeks. We believe it may be the first murder bench trial held in West Virginia. The Circuit Court, after reviewing the evidence at trial and subsequently came back with a second-degree verdict. Ms. Stanton also appeared at WVU College of Law on a panel about Justice in Appalachia with other defense attorneys this year and served as Chairman of the Motion's Manual Committee charged with updating the criminal motions manual last revised in 2003.

We purchased and renovated our building at 723 Main Street in 1996 for $50,000 and paid it off in 2003. Because we have not had to pay for rent, we have been able to use that money to better represent indigent clients.

At this point we believe that we have a sound system in place to address indigent clients in our circuit.

PROMOTING PUBLIC DEFENDER CIVIC ENGAGEMENT

The Public Defender Corporation for the 30th Judicial Circuit is the largest, busiest, and most experienced law firm in Mingo County. We are proud to be leaders in our legal community.

Office staff posing for the Williamson Daily News on Public Defender Day

Having lived through the Mingo County justice system scandal of 2013 (during which our former circuit judge, county prosecutor, chief magistrate, a county commissioner and Williamson's mayor were all convicted of federal crimes) the summer of 2018 could at times feel like déjà vu all over again. In 2013 we made a commitment to be even more civically engaged. We decided to establish a presence at as many and varied governmental meetings as possible. As former Kanawha County Chief Public Defender George Castelle once said, "It's not what you can accomplish by being present, it's about what won't happen because you are there." We have tried to have an office presence at the Mingo County Commission, Williamson City Council meetings, and Tug Valley Chamber of Commerce meetings, among others. As you can see from an attached newspaper article, this presence resulted in our county commission celebrating the 55th anniversary of Gideon v. Wainwright by recognizing National Public Defender Day. Our office's presence has also assisted the governmental entities in abiding by the sunshine laws and other procedures protecting the citizenry of Mingo County. For the most part, the government officials have appreciated our input so that future problems could be avoided. We have learned that increased civic involvement leads to better outcomes for our clients in many cases.

Our Office

Our office opened for business on January 15, 1990. Since that time, we've grown from a one attorney, one secretary office to a four-attorney office with a clerical staff of three. Our office handles approximately 500 cases a year, including felony, misdemeanor, juvenile and mental hygiene matters. Over the years our attorney staff has supervised 40+ law student interns from 10 different law schools, many of whom have chosen to practice law in West Virginia.

Our chief defender, Teresa McCune, attended Marshall University and Antioch School of Law. She handles most of our juvenile matters and murder cases. Teresa is active in the state and local bar, and in community service. She was appointed by governor Tomblin to serve on the state Indigent Defense Commission, as well as being chosen as a Rural Juvenile Ambassador by the mid-Atlantic Juvenile Defender Center. She chairs the State Bar Committee on Access to Justice, serves on the WV Supreme Court of Appeals Fatality Review Task force, and is a former MCLE Commissioner. Teresa is a member of the WV State Bar Criminal Law Committee. She is a founding member of West Virginia Women Attorneys, has been named a WV Bar Foundation Fellow, and has received the Governor's Service Award. Teresa founded and directs "On Track for College," an award-winning college bound coaching program that helps students preparing for higher education. She is also a member of Williamson Woman's Club (chosen Clubwoman of the Year 2015) and the Mingo/Pike branch of AAUW. Locally, Teresa is also the Chair of Christian Help of Mingo County, a charitable organization which provides direct aid to the needy. At the 2015 King Coal Festival Teresa was awarded the Humanitarian Award for her community service.

David Foley, our Deputy Chief Defender and former WV Public Defender of the Year, is a graduate of the WVU College of Law, and attended James Madison University where he was on the varsity debate team. David handles misdemeanors and felonies and is our "go to guy" for extradition cases. David is an Executive Board Member and Trustee for the Coalfield Association of Southern Baptists, sings in his church choir, teaches Sunday school, and bowls competitively. He is happily married to Debbie.

Paul Montgomery, staff attorney and Navy veteran, attended the University of Oklahoma and Appalachian School of Law. He handles misdemeanor and felony cases, is our point man for mental hygiene cases, handles some delinquency matters, and recently argued an appeal before the West Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals. Paul is married to Megan, and is the father of two young sons, Syrus Jonah and Royce Asher (aka Bobby Cars). Paul is a member of Delta Theta Phi Law fraternity. His hobby is stargazing, of which all members of the office benefitted during this year's total eclipse.

Tiera Asbury, our office manager, is a graduate of Mingo County Vocational School. Tiera is the former chair of the board of directors and a current volunteer for Beech Creek Park. She is married to Chad and is the mother of 11-year-old Callie.

Will Duty, our newest attorney, is a graduate of Williamson High School, the University of Kentucky, and Appalachian School of Law. Will is the oldest of five children and is actively involved in his siblings' lives and the lives of their children. He and Heather welcomed their first child in March 2017. He is a licensed pilot and stays in shape by running.

Brandy Sheppard, our paralegal/secretary, is a graduate of Tug Valley High School and Southern Community and Technical College. She is happily married to Jerry and is the proud mother of 6-year-old Brayson and 4-year-old Brantley.

Kathy Collins, our secretary, is a graduate of Williamson High School. She is the mother of two girls, and the grandmother of five grandchildren. Kathy volunteers with the women's ministry at the Regional Church of God.

Candace Marcum, a 3L at Appalachian School of Law, has interned for us the last two years and will continue with us on a limited basis throughout her last year of law school. Candace is a graduate of Tolsia High School and Marshall University.

Justin J. Marcum was recently appointed chair of board of directors. See attached article for more information about his appointment.

Former members of our staff can be found in various positions across our state, including Mark Snyder - Kanawha County Family Court Judge (deceased), Nancy Fraley - Chief Public Defender in Fayette County, Richard Holicker - Kanawha County Public Defender and former Kanawha County Magistrate, and Jonathan Friley, who is now at PDS as the Public Defender Corporation Administrator.

Former staff attorney Jonathan "Duke" Jewell now serves as Mingo County's elected Prosecuting Attorney.

Child abuse victims honored with march through Williamson

WILLIAMSON - A crowd of more than 100 people, made up of adults and children wearing blue, marched through Williamson on Wednesday in support of child abuse victims.

April is Child Abuse Prevention Month, and the goal was to show victims that the community stands behind them, said Amy Dearfield, executive director of the Mingo County Family Resource Network. The network has been holding similar events at each of the county's municipalities this month.

Wednesday was the first time since the marches began several years ago that Dearfield specifically invited survivors of child abuse, she said.

Two women who attended the march are both survivors of sexual abuse in their teens.They went through extreme adversity in their early lives, but preserved to become strong women, she said.

"I'm proud of how far they've come," Dearfield said. "One hugged me after the march and just cried."

A crowd gathered on West Third Avenue and marched around the block to the Mingo County Courthouse, where children planted blue pinwheels in the garden. Dearfield said the pinwheels represent one of the month's themes: "It's your turn to make a difference."

"The pinwheel signifies the wheel spinning, changing and turning," she said.

On the courthouse steps, Dearfield recognized four community members who took turns to make a difference with "Champion for Children" awards. The four were nominated by members of the community and approved by a committee.

West Virginia State Police Trooper Dustin Contos of the Mingo County detachment was recognized for his efforts to make children comfortable with police. Dearfield said parents are quick to "threaten to call the police" when their child acts up, which makes kids afraid of officers.

Contos takes time off the clock to help children not be afraid.

Mingo County Chief Public Defender Teresa McCune was given an award for her efforts to help students get accepted into college. McCune will spend time on the weekends making sure teens have gathered everything they need, including scholarship applications and essays.

McCune said one of the students she helped recently got accepted into Columbia University in New York City, which has less than a 4.6 percent acceptance rate.

"Just because you are from southern Appalachia, it doesn't mean you couldn't do that, too," McCune said.

Tug Valley High School teacher and baseball coach LeeAnn Blankenship received an award for her devotion to her students, Dearfield said. She uses her own money to ensure they have everything they need. Dearfield said Blankenship is good at choosing disadvantaged students to raise up with new life experiences.

Pastor David Jewell of Little Dove United Baptist Church in Belo, West Virginia, received an award for his leadership of a group of teens striving to make a difference.

Jewell has led a group of teens to get involved in the community, to clean up and give back, she said. He also hosts homework tutoring at the church for all grade levels. Jewell said he was blessed to lead the teens and spread God's love.

Mingo commission name chairwoman to county's abandoned housing board

By TRAVIS CRUM Dec 10, 2017

Mingo Commission President Diann Hannah swears in Teresa McCune as chairwoman of the county's abandoned housing board on Thursday. Submitted photo

WILLIAMSON - Commissioners appointed a Williamson attorney to head the county's abandoned housing board, hoping new leadership would give the board a boost it needs to go after owners of dilapidated buildings.

Mingo County Commission President Diann Hannah on Thursday swore in Teresa McCune, the county's chief public defender, as the new chairwoman of the Abandoned Buildings and Dilapidated Structures Board.

"I appreciate the commission's faith in me and I hope I can do a good job," McCune said.

Hannah said having an attorney lead the board would help resolve any legal questions that arise in enforcing the county's abandoned buildings ordinance. She recommended McCune for the position during a meeting earlier this month.

Robert Preece, the board's former chairman, resigned during a meeting in October because of frustrations with enforcement of the county's ordinance and what he said was a lack of action by the commission.

Under three years of Preece's leadership, the board identified several abandoned buildings and then performed exhaustive title searches for the owners.

That's when Preece said he became frustrated because the requirements of the county's ordinance kept changing. Commissioners said there was some miscommunication and that Preece just needed to complete one final step: filing complaints against the owners in Mingo County Circuit Court.

Commissioner Greg "Hootie" Smith said once a complaint is filed, owners are notified that they have to clean up their properties or be brought before the commission. Commissioners, serving as judges, would then hear the owner's case and then make a decision on what to do with the property.

Also Thursday, commissioners voted to move the board's meeting date to the second Thursday of each month at 3 p.m.

Other members of the board include: Brett Vance, county health officer; Joe Venturino, city council member; Amanda Starr, the county's flood plain coordinator; Sgt. John Hall, of the Williamson Police Department; and Mingo County Sheriff. James Smith.

Mingo staff celebrate 'National Public Defender Day'

WILLIAMSON - Chief Public Defender Teresa McCune said her office is celebrating a national day that applauds the importance of her office's work in Mingo County.

McCune helped recognize Sunday as National Public Defender Day, celebrating a landmark U.S. Supreme Court decision that required states provide attorneys to criminal defendants who can't afford it.

Public defenders are among the most dedicated and skilled criminal defense lawyers inside of a courthouse, McCune said.

"In Mingo County, the Public Defender of the 30th Judicial Circuit, is also the largest law firm, with combined experience in criminal defense of 65 plus years," she said.

McCune asked the Mingo County Commission and Williamson City Council to pass resolutions recognizing the national day during regular meetings this month. Both the County Commission and City Council read and approved proclamations in favor of the day.

She said states were required to provide legal representation to people who can't afford it due to a 1963 Supreme Court decision, unanimously ruling poor people have a constitutional right to an attorney when faced with prison.

Seeking Timber Resources

Cotiga Development Company is seeking property with timber resources. If you have property for sale or have timber you want harvested call us at 304-235-7070 Ext. 14.

The case, Gideon vs. Wainwright, surrounded Clarence Earl Gideon, a poor drifter accused of felony theft in Florida. Gideon represented himself at his first trial and was later convicted. After his trial was determined unconstitutional, Gideon was given an attorney and during his second trial, was acquitted.

McCune noted West Virginia has recognized the constitutional right of criminal defendants since 1863, a century before the U.S. Supreme Court decision.
