The Executive Director's Page

Public Defender Services submits its annual report for the State of West Virginia's fiscal year 2016 – 2017.

In 2017, the agency's personnel capably and efficiently conducted the ordinary course of business. Vouchers were processed for payment of the almost seven hundred court appointed counsel; grants to the eighteen (18) public defender corporations were negotiated, distributed and managed, enabling one hundred and forty public defenders to daily serve the interests of indigent clients; representation was ensured in over 65,000 cases involving indigent clients; and an annual conference was organized that was lauded as a "national caliber event."

However, the ordinary course of business was often accompanied by disappointing circumstances. The legislative efforts to address the overbilling by counsel failed. Reprogramming the agency's online voucher preparation system to serve as a much-needed timekeeping system for court-appointed counsel was stalled. The effort to reduce overbilling in the system by conciliatory methods was usurped by the intervention of other entities with jurisdiction over the issue.

Essentially, the agency's personnel did their job commendably during the fiscal year, but I must further report that the agency did not resolve overriding policy issues with which it has been confronted.

One of the most compelling and elusive policy objectives is an increase in the rates of compensation for court-appointed counsel. The 2.2 million dollars' cost associated with just an increase of five dollars must be balanced with the reality of a state in fiscal crisis that is already committing almost 50 million dollars to indigent defense.

If an accomplishment can be sculpted from the stone-cold reality faced in this fiscal year, it is that the conversation about reform in the system is being had and is continuing. Every success is preceded by countless failures, but is ultimately realized due to the willingness of everyone to keep trying.

So, the commitment of the agency's personnel is to continue their hard work in fulfilling the state's constitutional mandate to ensure that legal representation is provided to the indigent when facing the loss of liberty. My personal commitment is to continue to revisit the policy issues that swirl daily around the ordinary course of business. My hope is that in the next fiscal year, progress can be reported.

Respectfully,
Dana F. Eddy

Team Engagement & Agency Activities

Agencies, businesses, other organizations, and employees benefit from a workplace culture that encourages appreciation, recognition, and thinking outside the box. In addition to monthly brown-bag luncheons, we hold various events through the year to celebrate achievements and build a more cohesive and engaged team. Two of our favorite events are the annual Halloween luncheon/costume day and the staff retreat at Coonskin Park (as part of Public Employee Recognition Week).

PDS Intern, Karessa Williams, participates in some friendly team building at the PDS staff retreat.

PDS Staff participate in the annual Halloween costume day.

Community Service

We also value service to our community. This year we we collected donations for Lakin Hospital, Union Mission, and the Kanawha-Charleston Humane Society as our holiday charities. For approximately two weeks, members of the office gathered basic and essential items such as underwear, laundry detergent, and toothbrushes, as well as coffee, healthy snacks, coloring books, activities, and other various pet supplies.

Special Events

We celebrated two very special occasions this year. First, longtime voucher processor, Rosa McFarland, retired in January. Rosa's family and friends joined us for a farewell reception. Our next special occasion was Rachel Flynn's engagement. We celebrated Rachel's engagement with a celebratory luncheon in April.

PUBLIC DEFENDER SERVICES
Historical Overview

1. The State of West Virginia's Constitutional Obligation.

Over fifty years ago, the Supreme Court of the United States recognized that:

> [R]eason and reflection require us to recognize that in our adversary system of criminal justice, any person haled into court, who is too poor to hire a lawyer, cannot be assured a fair trial unless counsel is provided for him. This seems to us to be an obvious truth. Governments, both state and federal, quite properly spend vast sums of money to establish machinery to try defendants accused of crime. Lawyers to prosecute are everywhere deemed essential to protect the public's interest in an orderly society. … The right of one charged with crime to counsel may not be deemed fundamental and essential to fair trials in some countries, but it is in ours. From the very beginning, our state and national constitutions and laws have laid great emphasis on procedural and substantive safeguards designed to assure fair trials before impartial tribunals in which every defendant stands equal before the law. This noble idea cannot be realized if the poor man charged with crime has to face his accusers without a lawyer to assist him.

Gideon v. Wainwright, 372 U.S. 335, 344, 83 S.Ct. 792 (1963). With this decision, the Supreme Court of the United States extended the Sixth Amendment guarantee of the assistance of counsel in criminal prosecutions to the states through the Fourteenth Amendment. Essentially, states had to provide counsel for persons who were too poor to pay for legal services when these persons were confronted with criminal charges or the loss of other important rights by reason of state action.

The Supreme Court of Appeals of West Virginia reaffirmed this constitutional mandate as follows:

> "There can be no equal justice where the kind of trial a man gets depends on the amount of money he has. ..." Griffin v. Illinois, 351 U.S. 12, 76 S.Ct. 585, 100 L.Ed. 891 (1956). … The state must, as a matter of equal protection, provide indigents with the basic tools for an adequate defense or appeal, when those tools are available for a price to others.

State v. England, 363 S.E.2d 725, 727 (W. Va. 1987). Accordingly, a defense must be provided to indigent defendants and the defense must include not only the services of the attorney, but the provision of other services and material, including the transcripts of proceedings. Id.

2. The Legislative Findings.

In 1981, the following was codified at W. Va. Code §29-21-1:

> The Legislature finds and declares that in certain proceedings the state is required to provide high quality legal assistance to indigent persons who would be otherwise unable to afford adequate legal counsel; that providing legal representation to those who face an economic barrier to adequate legal counsel will serve the ends of justice in accordance with rights and privileges guaranteed to all citizens by the Constitution of the United States of America and the constitution of the state of West Virginia; that the availability of quality legal assistance reaffirms the faith of our citizens in our government of laws; that the present system which utilizes appointed counsel is not operating satisfactorily in some areas of this state and the Legislature is presently unable to determine what system or systems will provide the most efficient means for providing legal representation; that there is a need to explore alternative methods of delivering legal assistance, including the use of salaried public defenders complemented by private panel attorneys; that innovative programs and pilot projects as well as a continuation of the present appointed counsel system are necessary in separate areas of the state to provide information and experience upon which to base future legislative action.

The West Virginia Public Legal Services Council was then created "for the purpose of facilitating required legal representation of indigent persons". W. Va. Code §29-21-3 (1981; superseded in 1989).

In 1989, the agency was renamed as Public Defender Services and was charged as follows:

> The agency shall have as its principal purpose the development and improvement of programs by which the state provides legal representation to indigent persons.

W. Va. Code §29-21-4. This remains the agency's charge.

PUBLIC DEFENDER SERVICES
An Organizational Overview

VISION: "There can be no equal justice where the kind of trial a man gets depends on the amount of money he has." Griffin v. Illinois, 351 U.S. 12 (1956)

MISSION STATEMENT: To fulfill the State of West Virginia's constitutional obligation to provide quality legal assistance to persons who otherwise could not afford legal counsel in proceedings in which the person's liberty interests are at stake.

ORGANIZATIONAL STRUCTURE:

Public Defender Services is within the Department of Administration for the State of West Virginia. The chief administrative officer is the Executive Director, who is appointed by the governor.

The agency has three divisions.

The Accounting and Auditing Division is charged with the following responsibilities:

> The agency shall establish and the executive director or his or her designee shall operate an accounting and auditing division to require and monitor the compliance with this article by public defender corporations and other persons or entities receiving funding or compensation from the agency. The accounting and auditing division shall review all plans and proposals for grants and contracts and shall make a recommendation of approval or disapproval to the executive director. The accounting and auditing division shall prepare, or cause to be prepared, reports concerning the evaluation, inspection or monitoring of public defender corporations and other grantees, contractors, persons or entities receiving financial assistance under this article and shall further carry out the agency's responsibilities for records and reports as set forth in section eighteen of this article. The accounting and auditing division shall require each public defender corporation to submit financial statements monthly and to report monthly on the billable and nonbillable time of its professional employees, including time used in administration of the respective offices, so as to compare the time to similar time expended in nonpublic law offices for similar activities. The accounting and auditing division shall provide to the executive director assistance in the fiscal administration of all of the agency's divisions. This assistance shall include, but not be limited to, budget preparation and statistical analysis.

W. Va. Code §29-21-6(d).

The Accounting and Auditing Division also contains the voucher processing staff that processes for payment the vouchers which are submitted by private attorneys who accept appointments in eligible proceedings, which are defined as follows:

> Criminal charges which may result in incarceration; juvenile proceedings; proceedings to revoke parole or probation if the revocation may result in incarceration; contempt of court; child abuse and neglect proceedings which may result in a termination of parental rights; mental hygiene commitment proceedings; extradition proceedings; proceedings which are ancillary to an eligible proceeding, including, but not limited to, proceedings to enhance sentences brought pursuant to sections eighteen and nineteen, article eleven, chapter sixty-one of this code, forfeiture proceedings brought pursuant to article seven, chapter sixty-a of this code, and proceedings brought to obtain extraordinary remedies; and appeals from or post-conviction challenges to the final judgment in an eligible proceeding. Legal representation provided pursuant to the provisions of this article is limited to the court system of the state of West Virginia, but does not include representation in municipal courts unless the accused is at risk of incarceration ….

W. Va. Code §29-21-2(2).

The Criminal Law Research Center is another division of the agency and has the following statutory charge:

> (1) Undertake research, studies and analyses and act as a central repository, clearinghouse and disseminator of research materials;
> (2) Prepare and distribute a criminal law manual and other materials and establish and implement standard and specialized training programs for attorneys practicing criminal law;
> (3) Provide and coordinate continuing legal education programs and services for attorneys practicing criminal law; and
> (4) Prepare, supplement and disseminate indices and digests of decisions of the West Virginia supreme court of appeals and other courts, statutes and other legal authorities relating to criminal law.

W. Va. Code §29-21-7.

Finally, the agency's third division, the Appellate Advocacy Division is established as follows:

> The agency shall establish and the executive director or his or her designee shall operate an appellate advocacy division for the purpose of prosecuting litigation on behalf of eligible clients in the Supreme Court of Appeals. The executive director or his or her designee shall be the director of the appellate advocacy division.

ARCHIVED: This PDF has been archived because it contains historical information and data that may not be currently applicable.
For more information, and any accessibility concerns, please contact Dana Eddy at dana.f.eddy@wv.gov.

> The appellate advocacy division shall represent eligible clients upon appointment by the circuit courts or by the Supreme Court of Appeals. The division may, however, refuse the appointments due to a conflict of interest or if the executive director has determined the existing caseload cannot be increased without jeopardizing the appellate division's ability to provide effective representation. In order to effectively and efficiently use the resources of the appellate division, the executive director may restrict the provision of appellate representation to certain types of cases. The executive director may select and employ staff attorneys to perform the duties prescribed by this subsection. The appellate division shall maintain records of representation of eligible clients for record purposes only.

W. Va. Code §29-21-6(e).

In addition to the agency's divisions, the statutory framework for the agency includes two additional entities.

Indigent Defense Commission.

The first is the Indigent Defense Commission. Specifically,

> (a) There is hereby established the Indigent Defense Commission to provide assistance to Public Defender Services with regard to the general policies and procedures of the agency, including, but not limited to, the opening, closing or merging of public defender offices throughout the state and the establishment of performance measures for the qualitative review of indigent defense.
> (b) In order to demonstrate a collaborative approach to solving criminal justice problems, the commission shall consist of the Executive Director of Public Defender Services, who shall serve as chair, and the following members appointed by the Governor:
> (1) One former or retired circuit judge;
> (2) Three lawyers, one from each congressional district, who have significant experience in the defense of criminal cases or have demonstrated a strong commitment to quality representation of indigent defendants;
> (3) One current chief public defender; […],

W. Va. Code §29-21-3b.

Public Defender Corporations.

The second entity is the public defender corporation, which, if active within a judicial circuit, is "to provide legal representation … in accordance with the provisions" of the governing statute. W. Va. Code §29-21-8(a)(2).

For each public defender corporation, a board of directors is appointed. The chairperson of the board is appointed by the governor. One to two members for each county in the judicial circuit are appointed by the county commission. One to two additional members are appointed by each county bar association within the judicial circuit. The board selects a "chief" public defender who is then responsible for the delivery of legal services by the corporation. Unless inconsistent with the governing statute, the provisions of the state's nonprofit corporate laws govern the public defender corporations.

AUDITING AND ACCOUNTING DIVISION: PUBLIC DEFENDER CORPORATIONS

For FY 2017, there were eighteen public defender corporations serving nineteen judicial circuits (see subsequent table below). Although Public Defender Services establishes strategic objectives for the delivery of legal services to indigents in eligible proceedings, public defender corporations are not subordinate divisions of this agency. In essence, employees of the public defender corporations are neither employees of Public Defender Services nor employees of the State of West Virginia, but are employees of a specific non-profit organization governed by a board of directors appointed by the Governor, local bar associations, and county commissions.

For FY 2017, Public Defender Services made grants in the amount of $18,795,920.47 to and on behalf of the Public Defender Corporations. In return for these grants, the Public Defender Corporations reported 265,850.20 attorney hours and 35,365 closed cases. This represents approximately $70.70 per hour and $531.48 per closed case. However, reducing the attorney time by the 61,841.30 hours reported as administrative time (204,008.90), the cost per hour increases to $92.13[1] with no effect to the overall cost per case.

[1] This includes hours reported as drug court time (1,283.40)

PUBLIC DEFENDER CORPORATION RESEARCH CENTER

Public Defender Services (PDS) developed the Public Defender Corporation Resource Center (PDCRC) to serve public defender corporations across the state by utilizing specialists to assist attorneys in criminal defense advocacy. In addition to the resources and services available from the Appellate Advocacy Division, the following resources are available to attorneys and staff members of the Public Defender Corporations (PDCs): Mitigation and Alternative Sentencing Resources, Juvenile Resources, and Administrative, Personnel, & Technology Assistance and/or Consultation.

WHO WE ARE

Stephanne Thornton, our Criminal Justice specialist, is a licensed and clinically trained social worker and addictions counselor. This year Stephanne became a Certified Clinical Trauma Professional and completed training to become a Sex Offender Treatment Specialist (certification pending). She works with public defenders to help identify client issues, determine treatment options, create mitigation themes, recommend alternatives to incarceration, seek experts for assessment and testimony, interpret client treatment records, analyze relevant scientific research, and serve as a liaison to community programs serving the criminal offender population.

In addition to mitigation and sentencing advocacy, Stephanne explores grant and private funding opportunities for public defender offices to fulfill their mission of zealous advocacy, particularly through sentencing advocacy.

Our Juvenile Resource Specialist, Lori Waller, is an attorney who has extensive education in clinical and forensic psychology. Lori provides assistance with legal research, legal motions and appeals, and specific research and resources related to the criminal defense of the juvenile, specifically focusing on juvenile justice and child abuse and neglect cases.

Lori has the honor of being one of the few practitioners in the country selected to participate in the National Juvenile Defender Center's rural ambassador program, which provides intensive training in juvenile justice law.

Jonathan Friley, the PDC Administrator, is responsible for the overall health of the PDC system by ensuring compliance with grant conditions. In addition to his fiscal duties, Jonathan utilizes his leadership background, strong technology skills, and law degree to assist the PDCs with policy/procedure development and review, board engagement, employee and management training/coaching, leadership development, creation of best practices, and other administrative and personnel related matters.

ACTIVITIES

Fiscal Year 2017 was an eventful year for the PDCRC.

We hosted two movie screenings, each coinciding with a significant day in the public defense world. In celebration of Public Defender Day, we hosted a screening of 13th, a powerful documentary discussing race, crime, and the 13th Amendment (which abolished slavery). PDS staff were joined by staff from other PDCs to view the movie and participate in a discussion afterwards. Our second screening was in honor of the 50th anniversary of In re Gault, a landmark case holding that juveniles accused in delinquency cases must be afforded many of the same due process rights as adults, including the right to an attorney. To celebrate this event, juvenile justice defenders used "My Cousin Vinny" as a platform for discussion.

We also had a table at the WV Bar Association annual conference providing information and resources related to sentencing and mitigation. During the two-day conference, Stephanne provided information about the PDCRC and offered resources including mitigation newsletters and a newly created handout on themes of mitigation for use by criminal defense counsel.

Our team had several occasions to make presentations to various constituencies this year. Stephanne presented on the topic of community defending and mitigation assistance to the Kanawha Community Reentry Council; to the West Virginia NASW (social worker) Annual Spring Conference; and to new attorneys in the state at the PDS New Attorney Training providing information on signs of mental illness, substance abuse, and client interview techniques.

We're especially excited about our "Practice Tools for Attorneys" webinar training series. These webinars will focus on specific tools attorneys can utilize to improve their practice. Lori and Stephanne presented the first in this series, "Practice Tools for Attorneys: Juvenile Risk Assessment & Mitigation", in May. We look forward to expanding the series in FY 2018.

DIRECT ASSISTANCE

The PDCRC does more than presentations and discussions. We also directly assist the PDCs with real cases and issues. For example, this year Lori drafted multiple motions for attorneys. One such motion addressed reconsideration of a child's placement outside the home using both law and social science research to explain that the child did not need to be placed outside the home and would fare worse in the long-term if subject to residential placement. Another motion focused on a child's educational rights as his school sought to have the child declared incorrigible; there were questions surrounding whether the child had been appropriately evaluated for special education needs and whether the child was receiving any resources to address those needs. As such, there was a debate as to whether the child was truly incorrigible or just in need of appropriate services.

The PDCRC also traveled to several PDCs throughout the year. We felt it important to visit attorneys and support staff in their work environment. In addition to the benefits of face-to-face interaction, this allowed PDC employees to show us specific issues with which they needed assistance. In preparation for our site visits, we prepared multiple handouts and brochures. Stephanne prepared a series of handouts focusing on mitigation, sentencing themes, and sample sentencing memoranda. During these site visits with the PDCRC, Stephanne was able to discuss with attorneys and support staff specific client issues as well as themes the corporations might use related to bond, treatment need, placement options, and alternative sentencing success.

Stephanne was able to meet with the substance abuse and mental health treatment coordinator in the 4th Circuit PDC and the sentencing advocate in the 13th Circuit PDC to discuss resources, work experiences, and alternative sentencing options. She also worked with the Chiefs in the 5th and 25th Circuit PDC's to apply for separate grants to support a newly proposed position of recovery coach who will focus on the treatment needs of criminal defendants by identifying alternative sentencing placements related to addiction and mental health treatment and support.

AVAILABLE RESOURCES

Indigent defense is an often thankless profession that's full of long hours and very limited resources. Although our funding structure limits the PDCRC's direct assistance to Public Defender Corporations, we recognize the limitations practitioners face and make resources available to the greater-legal community whenever possible. Many of the resources the agency creates, including the materials discussed in this section, are available on our website and have been footnoted with the appropriate address.

For example, this year Stephanne created client-centered pamphlets on collateral consequences and client sentencing preparation that were sent to all PDCs[2]. Additionally, she issued five newsletters[3] on criminal justice matters (experts; experts with Jason Parmer's legal perspective/recommendations; legislation and addiction; implicit bias; John Pfaff's Locked In discussing mass incarceration).

We're proud to announce two major projects coming in 2018. The first is the PDS Blog, a joint project with the CLRC and Appellate Division that will be publicly available beginning in mid-April. The second is a West Virginia juvenile justice practice manual, written by Lori in collaboration with many juvenile justice practitioners around the state. The practice manual will also be publicly available through our website when complete.

APPELLATE ADVOCACY DIVISION

"The right of an accused in a criminal trial to due process is in essence, the right to a fair opportunity to defend against the State's accusations." Chambers v. Mississippi, 410 U.S. 284, 294, 93 S. Ct. 1038, 1045 (1973). The Appellate Advocacy Division strives to protect this right and to ensure that West Virginia conducts its criminal trials in accordance with the rule of law rather than compromising justice in light of the citizen-defendants' perceived opprobrium.

The Appellate Advocacy Division's primary task is to pursue appeals on behalf of indigent criminal defendants throughout the state who stand convicted of serious crimes resulting in lengthy prison sentences. The Appellate Division prefers complex cases or cases presenting issues of first impression so that in addition to protecting each individual client's rights, the law in general can advance in a positive direction.

A noteworthy change in West Virginia law resulted from Matthew Brummond presenting an issue of first impression for the Supreme Court of Appeals of West Virginia to consider. The question the Court decided was who can provide testimony to place a criminal defendant at a crime scene relying on cell phone calls and text messages made by the defendant. Matthew challenged the use of a lay witness to provide this type of testimony arguing that it requires expertise the average citizen does not possess. The Supreme Court agreed with Matthew and created a new point of law requiring an expert to provide cell tower location testimony. See Syl. Pt. 1*, State v. Johnson,* 238 W.Va. 580 (2017).

The Appellate Advocacy Division believes that trial and appellate lawyers can develop a united front in the defense of the indigent citizens of our state. In an effort to implement this team approach, the division assists attorneys throughout the State by answering attorney assistance calls and participating in continuing legal education programs offered by the Criminal Law Research Center. Our lawyers participated in every CLE program the Criminal Law Research Center held this year, including the 2017 Indigent Defense Conference.

The Appellate Division welcomes any practicing criminal defense lawyer within the state to call with legal questions they may have, regarding a court appointed case. The assigned appellate attorney will research any issue and provide prompt feedback. The Appellate Division offers other services, as well. The attorneys will brainstorm issues in a case, review discovery and offer suggestions or host a moot court in person or via phone conference.

The Appellate Advocacy Division is dedicated to vigorous representation of every client during both the trial and the appellate phase. Our ultimate goal is to help to ensure that every indigent citizen charged with a crime enjoys all the constitutional rights and protections guaranteed under the constitutions of both the United States and West Virginia.

Defense Function in the State of West Virginia. The standards were subsequently issued by Public Defense Services "to provide guidance for the professional conduct and performance of defense counsel."

Another working group made a report to the full Commission that resulted in the resolution of the Indigent Defense Commission on the date of December 18, 2017, to adopt a performance review guide that could be used to evaluate the performance of public defenders, generally, and chief public defenders, specifically, throughout the state. The guide has not yet been issued by Public Defender Services, but it is anticipated that this will be done during the next grant cycle for the eighteen public defender corporations.

In the course of the next year, the Indigent Defense Commission intends to "explore opportunities related to the training of appointed panel attorneys." W. Va. Code §29-21-3b(f)(2).

Public Defender Corporation for the First Judicial Circuit

Under the direction of our nine-member Board of Directors, the First Judicial Circuit Public Defender Corporation is a client focused non-profit organization operating in the Northern Panhandle of West Virginia. In order to meet the demands of the four judges and ten magistrates located in our tri-county circuit, we employ nine full time attorneys representing over 150 years of combined legal experience. Our attorneys are supported through five non-lawyer staff associates. Our attorneys and staff are split among two offices located in Wheeling and Weirton.

Our primary mission is the direct representation of indigent citizens accused by the government of crimes against the state. We do this well—Everyone knows what we bring! Noteworthy successes over the past year include acquittals in a trial conducted in Hancock County by Assistant Public Defender Samuel Stillwell and an acquittal in a trial conducted in Ohio County by Assistant Public Defender Robert Gaudio. Not to be outdone, new hire Chris Burdick obtained a successful result following his first felony trial. Our secondary mission focuses on preserving the Rule of Law. Gideon correctly states that attorneys are not luxuries but necessities. Our profession of law dictates that we are the social trustees for the rule of law. To that end, we aim to use our collective expertise only in the best interests of our clients and society.

In FY 16, our Corporation handled approximately 62% of felonies involving indigent persons. Additionally, we represented almost 87% of misdemeanors and 65% of juveniles. Our cost per case remains $509.90 lower than panel attorneys. These raw numbers provide the best evidence of our cost effectiveness.*

Shayne Welling, Chief Public Defender in the Public Defender Corporation for the 1st Judicial Circuit, attends the 2017 Indigent Defense Conference

To be clear, cost-saving measures are not the true measure of our impact. That honor belongs to the performance of our employees. Our Corporation takes pride in the competent delivery of legal services to our clients. Collectively, our board, attorneys and support staff are the Corporation. Together, we are imperfect servants of our profession. We defend the indefensible. When family, friends, and community have abandoned the accused—we humbly stand beside them. We never forget that individual liberty begins with indigent defense.

Equally important, we are vested in the community. Our employees are military veterans, members of local boards, former elected officials, and community volunteers. Our exclusive focus on criminal defense contributes to the efficient delivery of legal services. Efficiency yields time for our employees to: serve on local boards such as Youth Services Systems (YSS), Wheeling Regatta, and Legal Aid; organize charity 5K run/walks; community activism, participation in community theatre, and service in the West Virginia Army National Guard.

Our dedication to the rule of law shapes our end state—that being our hard-earned reputation as an obstacle on the road to tyranny. We remain your quiet guardians of liberty.

Shayne M. Welling
Chief Public Defender

Public Defender Corporation for the Second Judicial Circuit

As in the public and private sectors, the Public Defender Corporation for the Second Judicial Circuit did more with less in Fiscal Year 2017. The caseload increased by 4% and the number of charges within those cases increased by more than 20% from the previous fiscal year. Those figures are consistent with the steady growth in cases and charges since Fiscal Year 2014. Since July 1, 2013, the caseload has increased by 25% and the number of charges within those cases increased by more than 57%.

Several personnel changes occurred in Fiscal Year 2017, which has kept the quality of representation steady or even improved it. Assistant Public Defender John Anderson retired on June 30, 2017 and won jury trials in Marshall and Wetzel County Magistrate Courts. He has been replaced by Zachary Zilia, who is a Captain in the Army Reserves JAG Corps. Assistant Public Defender John Gainer won several jury trials in Marshall and Tyler County Magistrate Courts and in Tyler County Circuit Court. He has the distinction of winning two felony jury trials in the span of three days. Chief Public Defender Brett Ferro argued a case before the Supreme Court of Appeals of West Virginia and made law and won a jury trial in Wetzel County Magistrate Court.

The office is currently in the process of scanning and shredding files from its inception, which is under the direction of Office Manager Jennifer Galloway. She, along with Assistant Public Defender Jeremiah Gardner and clerical staff member Vicki Lough, assisted Mr. Ferro in keeping the office running smoothly when personnel changed or was on medical leave.

Public Defender Corporation for the Fourth Judicial Circuit

Since this office opened in January 2016, drug cases have been at the forefront of our caseload. After seeing that so many clients are in trouble because of drugs and drug use, we decided that we needed a person on staff to focus specifically and solely on substance abuse treatment for our clients.

In January of 2017, we added a full-time Substance Abuse Treatment Coordinator to our staff with grant funding from the Sisters Health Foundation and the Bernard McDonough Foundation. Dominique Dye, our "TC" and the director of our Recovery Department, now spends all day everyday finding treatment opportunities for the numerous clients we represent suffering from addiction and/or mental health problems.

The intervention process begins when Ms. Dye meets with clients at the jail or in her office and provides admission applications to them. To date, almost 190 people have had contact with Ms. Dye concerning substance abuse treatment. Ms. Dye helps clients complete and submit applications to treatment facilities around the state and elsewhere. When treatment beds are located, she works with attorneys to ensure that necessary documents including court orders are in place. She arranges transportation to treatment for clients if no other options are available. She follows clients' progress in treatment. She also does many other things too numerous to list, including gathering up clothes and hygiene products needed by clients or locating and arranging for delivery of personal belongings needed during treatment.

Although still in its early days, this project has given all of us at PDC4 a real education about the science of addiction and its treatment. We fear that our state is losing a generation to opioid and other addictions. We firmly believe that locking up every person suffering from addiction is not a solution to this problem. We have worked to learn all we can about addiction from experts such as Dr. Alfgeir Kristjansson, PhD from WVU School of Public Health. We have connected with providers and community groups who are working to stem the drug epidemic. We have listened to as many points of view as we can in order to gather information about this topic.

Dominique Dye, Substance Abuse Treatment Coordinator

In addition to finding treatment for clients, Ms. Dye participates in community efforts to educate and prevent substance abuse addiction. She is an active member of the Parkersburg Area Drug Free Coalition, a group of providers dedicated to preventing drug use at the high school and middle school levels. She also attends Combating Addiction with Grace meetings and has enlisted the aid of local churches on projects such as "Project: Get Clean"—the assembly and donation of personal hygiene bags for those coming out of jail and going directly into treatment. Ms. Dye speaks about addiction and treatment whenever invited. She also started a support group for mothers who have lost children to addiction – the "Moms Against Heroin". She attends and participates in Juvenile Drug Court and Adult Drug Court as well.

The urgent and pressing need for this position at PDC4 proves itself every single day. Although at times it seems like every client has substance abuse problems, in fact it is about twenty-five to thirty percent of our cases and clients. Most of these clients have never had an opportunity to seek treatment before. With the support of our three circuit Judges (Judge Wharton; Judge Beane, and Judge Waters) and our Prosecuting Attorney's Office, many clients now have a chance to seek treatment. With the recent opening of Recovery Point in Parkersburg, there will be even more opportunities for local treatment for men.

We have concluded that the substance abuse problem in our community must be tackled from every angle: prevention, education, treatment, and rehabilitation. Since February of this year, sixteen of our clients have graduated and completed a long-term treatment program. Twenty-two clients are presently in treatment, forty-eight are awaiting beds pending a decision by the courts, and six more are participating in Drug Court. Sadly, we lost one client to an overdose the day before he was scheduled to enter detox. Nevertheless, the Fourth Circuit Public Defender's Office is committed to doing our part to battle this overwhelming problem. We look forward to a time when drug addiction does not dominate the headlines and our case load.

Public Defender Corporation for the Fifth Judicial Circuit

Organization's History:

The Public Defender Corporation held its first board meeting on the 31st day of July 1996 and includes the 5th Judicial Circuit of Calhoun, Roane, Jackson, and Mason counties in West Virginia. However, during the process the Mason County Bar brought a lawsuit against the corporation and was granted an injunction for operation in Mason County. At the time, the injunction was not challenged and the corporation along with Public Defender Services made the mutual decision not to litigate the injunction as Public Defender Services and the corporation being in their infancies and it was agreed it was more important to firmly establish the corporation and Public Defender Services generally. To this day, the injunction has not been challenged. The corporation has revisited the topic in meetings and with communication with the local Mason County Bar and Judge Nibert of Mason County, West Virginia through its Chief Public Defender and has decided not to challenge the injunction as of this date.

Organizational Goals and Objectives:

Our goal is to provide high quality legal assistance to indigent persons who would be otherwise unable to afford adequate legal counsel; to provide legal representation to those who face an economic barrier to adequate legal counsel that will serve the ends of justice in accordance with rights and privileges guaranteed to all citizens by the constitution of the United States of America and the constitution of the state of West Virginia; to make available quality legal assistance that reaffirms the faith of our citizens in our government of laws.

The objective is to protect the ordinary citizen from wrongful conviction and to protect the basic and fundamental rights of all citizens by navigating those individuals charged with crimes through an evolving and complex legal system. A conviction based on sound law and tested facts with competent counsel is rarely overturned by the courts whereby society as a whole is protected by protecting individual rights.

Programs and Services:

Pursuant to W. Va. Code §29-21-8(a)(2) the purpose of a public defender corporation is to provide legal representation in the respective circuits in accordance with the provisions of that article. To that end, we provide appointed counsel in felony, misdemeanor, abuse and neglect, juvenile delinquency, juvenile status offenses, family court contempt when jail is contemplated, and mental hygiene proceedings.

Community Involvement:

Currently, the Chief Public Defender is an adjunct criminal law instructor at West Virginia University at Parkersburg, Jackson County campus one night per week. In addition, one of the assistant public defenders in the Jackson County office also teaches as an adjunct professor at WVUP Jackson County camps and teaches criminal law one night per week as well. Another assistant public defender is a board member of DayMark, Inc. a non-profit youth service agency.

An administrative assistant is actively involved in coordinating beauty pageants and other activities of that nature to help young women receive college tuition assistance including grants and scholarships.

New & Noteworthy for 2016

The corporation has had a few departures and additions. However, we are now fully staffed and act as a cohesive team. We had one lawyer leave our Roane County office and have now replaced that attorney. Finally, the corporation has recently filled a vacant position that was added in the last budget cycle.

We lost an administrative assistant in our Spencer office earlier in the year. She has been replaced by a well-qualified high energy employee who has taken a quick lead role in organizing and maintaining files and assisting the attorneys in that office.

We had a substantial victory when a felony trial in Roane County resulted in an acquittal. We have had multiple cases where charges have been reduced or dismissed through plea bargaining or further investigations. Currently, the Jackson County office has two first degree murder cases pending. We have worked diligently to protect each client's rights as they navigate the criminal justice system, often steering them toward sobriety.

We have had several clients participate in the Drug Court Program. These folks have made and continue to make remarkable strides from addiction to sobriety. We have had graduates who have to truly change from a life of addiction to a life of sobriety and now hold full time jobs and maintain close family relationships that had been previously abandoned.

We have applied for a grant funded position through the Sisters Health Foundation. If we are awarded the grant we will hire a peer recovery coach position. The peer recovery coach will help find available drug rehabilitation facilities and keep up with them on a regular basis. Most importantly, the recovery coach will stay in contact with clients after their cases end in an effort to help them maintain sobriety. We feel strongly that more contact with former addicted clients will help keep them from relapsing and committing other offenses. The recovery coach can monitor former clients and help steer them toward community and addiction recovery resources if it appears there could be a relapse. We believe the data we would gather from this position would show a tremendous value in preventing further court involvement for addiction.

Chief Public Defender

Public Defender Corporation for the Sixth & Twenty-fourth Judicial Circuits

The Public Defender Corporation for the 6th and 24th Judicial Circuits was founded on July 1, 1994 and serves Cabell and Wayne Counties. The one thing that stands out in our case load is the large number of felonies, an amount driven by a growing number of drug cases. In its segment "A Community Contaminated by Opioids", PBS News hour detailed the drug situation in Huntington as follows: "Of the 100,000 people in Huntington and surrounding Cabell County, officials estimate that 10,000 of them have become addicted to opioids like heroin and pain pills. Officials say there have been more than 100 deaths in Cabell County so far in 2017, with more than 2,000 overdoses expected by year's end".

In FY 2017 the Huntington office closed 4,167 cases and the Wayne office closed 1002 cases which totals 5,169 cases. There are eleven attorneys in Huntington and three in Wayne. There is one support staff position in Wayne and five in Huntington which includes a full-time investigator. Our office has been active in helping establish and maintain Adult Drug Courts and Day Report Centers in both counties. We also participate in the Veterans Treatment Court and the Juvenile Drug Court in Wayne County.

The Public Defender Services Annual Report for FY 2016 provides the following information on the condition of indigent defense costs for our region:

- Court Appointed Counsel Cases in Cabell and Wayne Counties continue to be cost effective, when compared with other court appointed counsel around the state, even with increasing numbers in one of the most expensive categories covered, namely abuse and neglect cases and drug related felonies.
- Cabell County (6th Circuit) court appointed counsel had the third lowest cost per case for court appointed counsel in the state at $533.37.
- Wayne County (24th Circuit) court appointed counsel had an average cost per case for court appointed counsel of $873.63.
- Court appointed counsel in Cabell and Wayne Counties represented 2,376 cases in FY 2016 including 544 felony cases, 711 abuse and neglect cases and 693 mental hygiene cases. They had an average cost per case of $666.92. This is up $73 per case from FY 2015 and is likely caused by the increase in felony cases. The Supreme Court's 2016 Statewide Data for Circuit Courts shows that there were a record 365 abuse and neglect cases in Cabell County and 129 cases in Wayne County. The increase in our caseload is driven by the heroin drug epidemic in our region.

The Public Defender Corporation for the 6th and 24th Circuits continues to strive to provide quality representation for our clients in our region regardless of our large caseload. Historically, our office has been one of the leading Public Defender offices in cost effective representation. FY 2016 continued that tradition as we:

- Had the lowest cost per case among Public Defender Corporations at $360.25. There are two other large offices with large caseloads in the state and it is useful to compare these three offices. Kanawha had a cost per case of $374.90 and the Eastern Panhandle offices had a cost per case of $612. 68.

- Had the second highest number of felonies among Public Defender Corporations (1,541). The Kanawha office had 1,656 and the Eastern Panhandle Office had 1,083.
- Had the second highest number of misdemeanors (3,039) and the highest share of representation (96.05%) in the state. The Kanawha office had 3,585 while the Eastern Panhandle office had 2,245.
- Had the second highest number of cases among Public Defender offices (5,075 while Kanawha 7,470 and Eastern Panhandle had 4,448) and the third highest grant ($1,828,266), behind Kanawha Co. at $2,800,474 and Eastern Panhandle at $2,725,184.

Several members of our staff also serve our community beyond our office. Public Defender Corporation for the Seventh Judicial Circuit*

Our office embraces our reputation for being diligent and aggressive advocates. We believe that expedient action is critical, especially for individuals who are incarcerated while awaiting trial (and therefore haven't been found guilty of a crime). We remain on call twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week, as Mental Hygiene and Juvenile cases can occur at any time. We continue to pride ourselves on working with other criminal defense lawyers who practice in our jurisdiction. We help cover emergency hearings or rule readings for panel attorneys so that people do not have to unnecessarily go to jail. We also assist panel attorneys who ask for motions or legal research. We all have the same goal of protecting the constitutional rights of those who are poor or otherwise unable to protect themselves.

Dwayne Adkins has been the Chief Public Defender for more than a decade and has practiced law for over twenty years. He is an experienced criminal trial lawyer and civil trial lawyer having had jury trials in both civil and criminal cases ranging from First Degree Murder to Medical Malpractice. He has been both a plaintiff's lawyer and an insurance defense lawyer. He has also been an assistant prosecuting attorney in the past hopefully giving him an understanding of prosecutorial perception that is beneficial to his clients. He has presented multiple arguments in both criminal and civil cases before the West Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals. Dwayne is active member of Southern Regional Day Report Board (having been a board member since its inception) and Drug Court Teams for Logan County. Dwayne is a graduate of both Marshall and WVU.

Gerald Merceruio has over twenty-eight years of experience as a criminal trial lawyer. He has tried many cases in his time and has great skill as trial lawyer. His long standing loyalty to the Public Defender System places him among a now very short list of Public Defenders who have been aggressive advocates committed to helping the poor since the early 90's. Gerald received his undergraduate degree and law degree from WVU.

Don McDaniel has over forty years of experience as a trial lawyer, having practiced in both Texas and West Virginia. Don received his undergraduate degree from Yale and his law degree from Vanderbilt. Outside the office, Don is very active in his local church and choir.

Ashley Cochran focuses on Juvenile and Abuse & Neglect cases. She is often requested as co-counsel in sex crime cases and cases involving serious allegations involving children. Ashley interned at our office several years ago and we were very happy to have her return to us. She is an example of the success the Public Defender Intern Program. Ashley is a graduate of Appalachian School of Law in Grundy Virginia and achieved her undergraduate degree at Marshall. She has over ten years practice experience.

Our support staff utilize their experience to quickly and effectively help clients who are often having the worst experience of their life.

Long standing Office Manager Carol Booth remains the administrative right hand of our office. She keeps the lights on (literally and figuratively) by putting in extra hours and weekends on both case work and administrative work. Additionally, she has forged relationships with many rehab and treatment facilities so that our clients are able to tackle the addiction epidemic. She has been a legal secretary for over twenty-five years.

Pamela Esposito came to us with over twenty years of experience as a legal secretary. She has continued to work hard and increase her commitment and skills since coming to work for us. She is dedicated to helping our clients.

Brandi Bias will join our office at the end of July, replacing Brandi Baisden-Clark who recently moved to South Carolina. She comes to us with approximately five years of experience in civil practice.

TEAM EFFORT GOES BEYOND OUR OFFICE

Our team focus extends outside the walls of our office. We often work in tandem with other key individuals to ensure we provide high quality representation. One example is our frequent collaboration with a very experienced private investigator from Logan County, Gary Hylton. He has played crucial roles in several cases this fiscal year causing a drastic reduction in charges in some cases and dismissals in others due to revelations caused by his very skilled investigations. Gary's skill illustrates the importance of private investigators in criminal defense. We also routinely work with Timothy Sarr (psychologist) and Bobby Miller (psychiatrist) as many cases have a mental health component requiring expert analyses. We also work with countless individuals in rehab facilities and mental health facilities in a shared mission to help our clients deal with the scourge of addictions. We are grateful to have these partnerships.

Our clients have the advantage of being represented by a team of experienced lawyers. Our legal team has an average of 23 years of legal practice per lawyer. We meet regularly to discuss cases as a team. Our office maintains a form bank of motions, pleadings, and other documents that we look forward to expanding through cooperation with the other Public Defender Corporations. Our office is capable of running paperless since all documents received or produced are scanned digitally—an accomplishment that wouldn't be achievable if not for our amazing support staff. They are the backbone of our office.

Over the past few years Juvenile Drug Court, Adult Drug Court, and Veteran's Court have expanded as well as the participation of this office in those Courts. We also meet weekly with members of the day report center, Prosecuting Attorney's office, and the other agencies to reduce jail cost by granting reduced bond or personal recognizance bonds to appropriate defendants.

Public Defender Corporation for the Eleventh Judicial Circuit

Our office opened in 1999 with the goal of providing high quality and cost effective criminal defense to the citizens of Greenbrier and Pocahontas Counties.

West Virginia's place at the center of the opioid crisis has left everyone in the criminal justice system struggling for solutions and the 11th Judicial Circuit has been a leader in innovating and adopting new solutions. Chief Defender Joshua Edwards and Deputy Chief Defender Dewitt Daniell both serve on the advisory committee for Greenbrier County's Day Report Program. Laura Spadaro serves as a member of the drug court team in Pocahontas County. In addition to their formal role on the advisory committees, Public Defenders serve as informal advisors on policy matters and legal questions as they arise.

The attorneys and staff are:

Joshua Edwards is the Chief Defender for Greenbrier and Pocahontas Counties that together make up the 11th Judicial Circuit. He observes that, "Criminal Defense has transformed in the time I've been practicing law. When I started there was a clear line between the criminals and the community. As the opioid crisis hit Southern West Virginia that started to change and addiction led to criminal behavior throughout the community. I'm proud of the efforts I've made with the Public Defender Corporation, Drug Court, and Day Report Programs to combat the epidemic and restore individuals to their community. The value of what we do really hit home when I was able to work with a Defendant that my wife and I had had in youth group, solve his legal problems and restore him to his family and his community. I keep his mother's thank you card on my desk to remind me that everyone who comes through my office has a family and needs and deserves a chance."

In addition to his duties as Chief Public Defender, Mr. Edwards serves on the Community Corrections Advisory Board in both Greenbrier and Pocahontas Counties. He also serves on the Pocahontas County Drug Court treatment team and is a frequent contributor to both formal and informal efforts to improve the criminal justice system. He initially planned a career in real estate law and is thankful most days that it did not work out. He enjoys the challenges of the courtroom and getting to know his clients as human beings so that he can tell their story and help them write a better conclusion. He indicates "As my children have gotten older and more involved in community events I realize the impact my work has on children and the community as a whole. Every time I go to a parent night at the school I see parents with their children who would not be able to be there without the Public Defender Corporation. It is particularity rewarding when you know that you were able to arrange for the parent to complete drug court or rehab and you know that they're not only with their child, but able to be a great parent to that child."

Outside of work, Joshua has three sons who keep him running non-stop. He serves as a coach and board member for the Greenbrier United Soccer Club (formally Northern Greenbrier Youth Soccer League), previously served as assistant commissioner and coach for the Greenbrier Valley Athletic Association first and second grade basketball league and as coach for the GROW basketball league. Joshua is active in the Lewisburg United Methodist Church, having served as a Youth Group leader and on various committees from the Communications Team to the Trustees for the past thirteen years.

His experience includes defending criminal cases, both felonies and misdemeanors, representing juveniles, and advocating for parents accused of abuse or neglect. In addition to his primary responsibilities representing clients, Dewitt has been active in bringing community corrections to the 11th Judicial Circuit. He has served on the Community Corrections Advisory Board from its inception, and he is currently a member of the Drug Court treatment team. He is presently assisting with PDS efforts to compile and publish a motions manual. As a former school teacher, he has maintained an interest in working with high school aged kids; he has presented programs on a number of occasions having to do with the juvenile justice system, and the criminal law, at Greenbrier East High School. In his time away from work, Dewitt enjoys playing bluegrass banjo with friends in and around Pocahontas and Greenbrier counties. He has played at the Lewisburg United Methodist Church on numerous occasions, Pocahontas County Community Centers, WellSpring of Greenbrier County, and a number of fundraising events throughout southeastern West Virginia.

Mr. Daniell is the recipient of the 2012 Dambro Award as the Outstanding West Virginia Public Defender. He has been married for 24 years and has a son who is 23 years old.

Steve serves primarily as the Assistant Public Defender assigned to Greenbrier County Magistrate Court. He relates that:

You might think Magistrate Court in a rural county would be boring, folks coming in and arguing over whose cow strayed onto whose pasture, some irate wife demanding that I bring her hubby home from the Dew Drop Inn, that sort of thing. Not at all. To paraphrase Edward G. Robinson in 'Double Indemnity', "Each file is packed with drama, hopes, broken dreams, tension, excitement." I generally carry from 200 to 250 active cases, and each case is replete with its own drama. These are struggling people, fighting poverty, with little or no medical/dental/psychiatric care. If they have jobs, they have to struggle to pay for gas out of their minimum wages. What we do in Magistrate court is a fascinating attempt to juggle fate or alter history, or both. I love to tell my clients, "There is a legal side to this and a human side", and we often address both. What greater privilege than going to work each morning to attempt to remedy a failing home situation, help someone overcome addiction, get back on track?

There is a down side, a cost, to this, as well. I want to see my clients succeed. Sometimes, they will make a brave start, cleanliness, sobriety, financial stability, and then that fragile house of cards will topple. When that happens, I am usually one of the first to know, as that file skids to a halt on my desk.

That said, there are also those moments when I see clients at the local Walmart, or waiting on me at some restaurant, who remember. It is a real pleasure to see them doing well, to know they are back with their families and that they don't have to look over their shoulders.

Perhaps a small anecdote might illustrate my point. Had one client, bitter, rough hewn domestic case, never wanted to see her husband again. The prosecutor wanted a diversion program, but she wanted to teach him a lesson. So she and I talked about families. My Dad lived in Boston in Prohibition and the Great Depression. I told her about his feeling that family was more important than anything else, and pretty soon she was showing me pictures of her kids and even her German Shepherd. The last time I saw the family, at McDonald's, they were reunited and looked happy. I like to think my Dad would have been happy that we do this kind of work, too.

On the legal side, I am especially curious as to how courts will construe the Fourth and Fifth Amendments in the next ten years. When are a client's rights compromised, and just what is a coercive environment? What is informed consent? We are fortunate to practice on the sword edge of these issues. Outside of the office Steve volunteers at the Greenbrier County Animal Shelter and interviews students for his alma mater, Haverford College.

Keshia Tenorio, Assistant Public Defender

Ms. Tenorio is the youngest of the office's lawyers having graduated from the West Virginia University School of Law in 2014. Her primary duties consist of representing parents in abuse and neglect cases and representing juveniles. Keshia demonstrates a remarkable ability to connect with her juvenile clients, understand their needs and to help them get their individual needs addressed by a system that tends to have a one size fits all approach. While in law school, Keshia was active in the Black Law Student's Association, Moot Court and the Lugar Trial Association. She is currently a member of Generation Greenbrier Valley which is an organization that aims to attract, retain, and advance emerging leaders in the Greenbrier Valley. Unfortunately, Ms. Tenorio has recently announced that she will be leaving the Public Defender Corporation to take a job as an assistant prosecutor in Hardy County. We wish her well and will miss having her on our team.

Laura Spadaro, Assistant Public Defender

Ms. Spadaro joined our team in November of 2015. Since coming on board as the Assistant Public Defender in the Pocahontas County office she has had two jury trials in Circuit Court. Laura handles everything from mental hygiene cases to felonies. She has found that Pocahontas County is a busy jurisdiction despite being the most rural county in the eastern United States. Prior to her career as a Public Defender Laura had been in private practice in Raleigh County. In addition to the more traditional duties of a Public Defender, Laura serves on the Pocahontas County Drug Court Treatment Team. She remarks that, "Alternatives to incarceration are being embraced in Pocahontas County" and that "the Day Report Center seems to be having a meaningful impact on the community and on the lives of many of our clients". Since moving to Pocahontas County, Laura has volunteered with PA, Inc., a corporation that facilitates art sales in Pocahontas County.

Yevette Shafer, Office Manager

Yevette started with the Public Defender Corporation as a secretary in 2009 and assumed her duties as Office Manager in 2011. Outside of the office she is active in her church and community. Yevette has served as a church representative at many levels, including state and national. Her desire is to retire in a few years and continue her work in the mission field at home and abroad. She graduated from The School of Christian Studies in October 2016 with her Degree in Pastoral Ministry. Yevette, along with some of her classmates and an instructor have monthly Sunday evening services at a low-income apartment complex located close to her church. In April of this year Yevette traveled to The Netherlands for the mission trip, "Tulips and Trafficking 2017".

Human trafficking is a travesty that many consider a problem of the past, or at least one limited to outside of the United States or our area. A report was issued last month about the growing problem of prostitution in West Virginia that was linked to the issues of poverty and drug abuse. West Virginia is considered a hot spot for human trafficking activity due to the current opiate drug epidemic, the unemployment rate, and a prevalence of poverty-stricken neighborhoods. In an effort to raise awareness about this problem, Yevette has been speaking about her experiences at churches and church related venues around the state, most notably presenting at Camp Global and the Greenbrier/Raleigh Association Meeting.

Yevette performs mission work in Amsterdam.

Yevette implores that "we must act to help those in bondage….we need to help lead them out of prostitution, not threaten them to hell. These methods can involve a variety of means, ranging from financial support to programs that work in the anti-trafficking field, to helping raise awareness about the problems in our own Backyards and to always be in prayer." Yevette reminds us that "we need to think, talk and respond to these issues, especially in the context of our jobs." She is currently working to organize a group at Suck Memorial Baptist Church that will focus on addressing struggles in life, struggles with addictions, depression, and anxieties. She will serve as one of eight mentors in the group. Further, she is active in Habitat for Humanity Women Build, The Red Cross and the CROP Walk (an annual event that raises money to fight hunger).

Madora Smith, Secretary

Madora joined the Public Defender Corporation in 2014 but became familiar with the Court system prior to that as a CASA (Court Appointed Special Advocate) volunteer and CASA's involvement with case investigation and attendance at court hearings. CASA volunteers serve as a voice to children in the abuse and neglect system. As such, they investigate cases and attend court hearings. Madora's experience as a CASA volunteer has given her a unique insight into our practice as Public Defenders. She relates that "During my off time I am a wife, mother and grandma. My family actively participates in the First Baptist Church of Huntersville, WV. I am blessed to be in a family that has a diverse range of interests from classical piano to hunting and fishing."

Lois just completed her first year in the Public Defender Corporation having previously worked as a legal assistant for a private practitioner working with social security and black lung cases. She indicates that, "the criminal arena is a whole new experience and can be a challenge considering the sheer volume and variety of cases". Lois also had a variety of careers prior to joining the Public Defender Corporation. She worked as a computer consultant for MCI telecommunications, the United States Supreme Court, and the Georgia Supreme Court. Lois also ran a small computer support firm, Evergreen Apps, and was the owner/operator of Yew Mountain Lodge in Hillsboro, West Virginia. Public Defender Corporation for the Twelfth Judicial Circuit

The Fayette County Public Defender's office continues to remain busy, busy, busy both in and out of Court!

Chief Defender, Nancy Fraley, continues to be a regular blood donor and cooks at the Richwood Ramp Dinner. She has also taken the new role of caretaker for her mother. Nancy also has the new distinction of being the only lawyer in Fayette County history to successfully defend a kitten, preventing it from being sent to jail without a fair trial! She and Jim Adkins were in trial when the bailiff handed the Judge a note. Upon reading the note, the Judge announced from the bench that there was a kitten under a juror's car and asked the juror if it was his kitten. When the juror denied knowing the kitten, the Judge told the bailiff to take it to the shelter. Nancy, seeing the injustice, immediately made an objection announced in open court, stating that she would take the kitten. She is now the proud new mom of "Sam", and suspects the jury must have been mostly made up of dog lovers because the defendant was convicted.

Nancy Fraley attends the 2017 Indigent Defense Conference

Jim Adkins stays busy with his two children, with a major portion of his time spent attending (and offering helpful advice during) middle school soccer games and volley ball games. Most recently, Jim taught a tree identification class to a group of girl scout troop. He continues to be supportive of Woodrow Wilson High School's activities. Jim has handled numerous jury trials this year.

Scott Stanton has worked numerous extra hours on nights and weekends over the last eighteen months on a murder case from 1999. That case has now been dismissed! In addition to celebrating this victory, Scott has also celebrated the birth of his first granddaughter, Harper. Of course, Scott also stays busy with his Thursday night trivia team, cooking in chili cook-offs, and serving as the President of the Nicholas County Public Service Commission.

Jennifer Alvarez was recently selected as one of only seven members of this year's class of Rural Ambassadors in the Mid-Atlantic Juvenile Defense Center's Rural Ambassadors program. When Jennifer isn't representing kids or parents, she can usually be found hanging out with her youngest at the Fayette Theatre (where she has been known to play a role or two). Jennifer has also participated in a couple runs for charity, has transported numerous rescue animals to their forever home, and played nurse maid to her eldest son following surgery.

We are extremely grateful to our support staff, Stacey Barnhouse and Debra Masters. They keep the office running smoothly and, more impressively, they're able to keep the attorneys running in the correct directions.

Public Defender Corporation for the Thirteenth Judicial Circuit

The Public Defender Corporation for the Thirteenth Judicial Circuit (Kanawha County Public Defender Office) prides itself in providing client-centered representation to indigent individuals. Opened as a full-scale office in 1989 with the mission to provide legal services to individuals facing criminal charges in Kanawha County, the office has thrived and affected positive change in our court system by employing a staff that vigorously represents our clients and strives to protect their rights.

We currently employ twenty-three full-time lawyers, one part-time senior counsel, and fifteen support staff to represent individuals in felony, misdemeanor, municipal, juvenile, appellate, parole revocation, extradition, mental hygiene, drug court, veteran's court, and child support violation cases. Our lawyers appear before seven circuit court judges, ten magistrates, municipal court judges, family law judges, mental hygiene commissioners, and Supreme Court of Appeals justices.

Our dedicated legal staff has had many victories over the years: successfully lodging challenges to the court system, securing acquittals at trial and dismissals in a wide range of cases, helping clients overcome addiction problems, and securing favorable sentences. Our helpful and knowledgeable support staff is comprised of equally dedicated individuals who help us provide effective representation to our clients.

Located in West Virginia's capital city, the office has always served a large number of clients. During FY 17, the office was appointed to represent clients in 7,505 new cases. In addition to representing clients, our dedicated legal staff also provide other legal and community services. In one such instance, our office received positive attention for a group-effort letter to the editor, with our position later supported by a Charleston Gazette editorial (see attached articles).

Activities our lawyers are involved in include: serving on the West Virginia State Bar Criminal Law Committee, various State Bar subcommittees and other State Bar Committees; membership on the National and West Virginia DUIDLAs (DUI defense lawyer associations); serving on the Kanawha County Community Corrections Advisory Board; serving as a member of the CARE (Call to Action for Racial Equality) Coalition; serving on the MCLE (Mandatory Continuing Legal Education) Commission; serving on the West Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals Community Supervision Committee; serving on the West Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals Prison Overcrowding Compliance Commission; participating in training for Kanawha County Drug and Veteran's courts; teaching at the West Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals new magistrate training; giving legal presentations in various settings on several law topics; publishing articles on a variety of legal topics; participating in legislative task forces; participating in national Gideon's Promise training; serving as board members for the Mid-Atlantic Juvenile Defender Center; offering various levels of support for local schools; supporting West Virginia's American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) and West Virginia Legal Aid; participating in the West Virginia Women Attorneys Association; serving as a judge for "We The People"; serving as a board member and chorister with the West Virginia Symphony Orchestra; and volunteering for ARTBAR (A Reason To Believe Animal Rescue) and other animal rescue organizations and animal shelters.

Opinion: How judges can fight the opioid epidemic

From The Charleston Gazette-Mail, Gazette Page:

Editor's Note: This commentary was written by lawyers in the Kanawha County Public Defenders Office: Sara Whitaker, David Anderson, Barbara Brown, Justin Collin, John Danford, David Ford, Iram Hasan, Richard Holicker, Jason Nicholas, Diana Panucci, C. Joan Parker, Susan Settle and Ronni Sheets.

Last month, U.S. District Judge Joseph Goodwin made headlines when he rejected a plea agreement between the federal prosecutor's office and a defendant accused of selling heroin. The defendant is a 38-year-old man with severe mental health disorders and a history of addiction that dates back to his childhood. In his opinion, Judge Goodwin argued against leniency in the context of our state's devastating opioid epidemic.

The opioid epidemic is the great moral question for our state, but harsher sentences are not the answer. Substance abuse is a public health crisis that deserves a public health solution.

Judge Goodwin's opinion takes issue with the asymmetry between the number of original charges filed against the defendant and the single charge to which he ultimately pleaded guilty. Judge Goodwin, like many citizens, looks at that resolution and concludes that a prosecutor must have bargained away charges to avoid trial for the prosecutor's own convenience, resulting in "leniency" toward the defendant.

There is another explanation.

Over the past two decades, the primary driver of mass incarceration has been prosecutors' increased willingness to file charges. During that time, crime rates, arrests per crime, prison admissions per felony filing and time served have remained flat or fallen. Yet, the number of prisoners has tripled. Why? Because the number of people charged with felonies has exploded.

Many prosecutors are overcharging, indicting a defendant at a higher-level offense than the evidence warrants or charging the defendant with multiple offenses for a single incident. This has become easier to do, thanks to what federal Judge Alex Kozinski calls "the overcriminalization of virtually every aspect of American life."

Judge Goodwin notes that a grand jury found probable cause to charge the defendant in this case. But as one judge famously said, "If a district attorney wanted, a grand jury would indict a ham sandwich."

In a recent year, federal prosecutors asked for grand jury indictments in over 162,000 cases. They were denied only 11 times.

A prosecutor's virtually unfettered power to charge, combined with harsh mandatory minimum sentences, has made plea agreements the most likely option for avoiding longer, costly prison sentences.

In 2012, the average sentence for federal drug offenders convicted after trial was three times higher (16 years) than that received after a guilty plea (5 years and 4 months). This is because federal sentencing guidelines call for harsher sentences for those who do not "accept responsibility" and insist on exercising their constitutional right to go to trial. Judge Goodwin says he wants more trials. But in this environment, a call for more trials will likely lead to longer sentences or more punitive plea agreements, and not an end to our public health crisis.

But the opinion is also silent on the vital role of the defense attorney, whose job it is to scrutinize the evidence and reveal the weaknesses in the government's case. In a sentencing memorandum, the defense attorney provided a glimpse of potential weaknesses in the case — credibility issues affecting the government's witnesses, and a lack of corroborating video evidence traditionally available in these cases — that could make a trial conviction less of a sure thing for the government.

Finally, the opinion overlooks the defendant's humanity. Instead, this man has been reduced to his criminal record and addiction history. All of us are more than the worst things we have done. And we hope judges take into account the entirety of the person who stands before them.

As the defense sentencing memo revealed, the defendant was born into a poor, overcrowded household, plagued by addiction and domestic violence. Judge Goodwin's opinion does not mention that the defendant had escaped this home to live on the streets at age 12. Nor is there mention of psychiatric diagnoses of bipolar disorder and schizophrenia — two brutal illnesses that even well-to-do people struggle to manage.

Finally, Judge Goodwin is unmoved by the fact that the defendant himself has been addicted to the same drugs he is accused of selling. That is, the defendant is apparently another victim of the opioid crisis on which Judge Goodwin has focused.

Substance abuse is the defining crisis of our generation. We know that mass incarceration is not the solution, because we have tried it. The number of people imprisoned for drug offenses in this country ballooned from 25,000 in 1980 to 300,000 today. In West Virginia we have more people than ever in prison, yet our fatal overdose rate continues to rise year after year.

Just before Judge Goodwin issued his opinion, the Pew Charitable Trusts announced that a 50-state analysis found "no statistically significant relationship between states' drug offender imprisonment rates and three measures of drug problems: rates of illicit use, overdose deaths, and arrests."

Longer sentences do not deter drug crimes. Judge Goodwin acknowledges that his 22 years on the bench have provided him "scant evidence that prohibition is preventing the growth of the demand side of the drug market." What's more, mass incarceration is a zero-sum game — especially for defendants addicted to drugs. Every taxpayer dollar we spend on prison for addicts is a dollar not spent on prevention, treatment and the well-being of our citizens.

But we also know what works. And judges can and must play a vital role.

We need judges who will join their colleagues in speaking out against costly and counterproductive mandatory minimum laws, which drive plea negotiations.

We need judges who will demand that drug-addicted defendants spend less time passively languishing in prison cells and more time making things right — through treatment, through restitution to victims and through community service.

Judge Goodwin calls for a criminal justice system that values transparency, public scrutiny and an acknowledgment of the horrible context that is the opioid epidemic. So do we.

The public interest demands a public health solution for a public health crisis. Costly jury trials that lead to harsher sentences will not get us there.

Gazette editorial: WV won't jail its way out of drug crisis

clipart.com

There are no simple answers to the crisis of opioids — prescription painkillers, heroin, fentanyl — that bedevils West Virginia and the nation. But at least some local people are considering the options.

Earlier this summer, U.S. District Judge Joseph R. Goodwin rejected a plea deal arranged by federal prosecutors and federal public defenders for Charles Walker, a 38-year-old Charleston man accused of selling heroin and fentanyl and illegally having a gun while doing it.

Such judicial rejections are extraordinarily rare; Walker's public defender said he couldn't remember one in his 25 years as a lawyer.

Goodwin noted that a grand jury had indicted Walker — who has been convicted of crimes 18 times as an adult — on six counts, but he was only pleading guilty to one. The judge called the plea deal "bargaining against the people's interest," the Gazette-Mail's Erin Beck reported.

But it's not as simple as that.

A group of lawyers from the Kanawha County Public Defender's Office carefully explained their reasoning in a July 23 commentary in the Sunday Gazette-Mail, noting that prosecutors in recent years have "overcharged" defendants on a regular basis, getting indictments on all manner of crimes. The public defenders point out that the number of prisoners in American prisons has skyrocketed, even as crime rates have fallen or stayed the same.

Theoretically, a grand jury is supposed to hear prosecutors' arguments and decide if the case against a defendant is worthy of a criminal trial. But according to a study by the U.S. Bureau of Government Statistics, from Oct. 1, 2009, to Sept. 30, 2010, federal prosecutors presented more than 162,300 cases to grand juries — and grand juries refused to indict defendants in just 11 of those cases. That's 0.000068 percent.

Once indicted and facing trial, defendants have plenty of incentive to reach a plea deal and not go to trial. According to the public defenders, sentences for people who fight their charges at court and are convicted were three times as long in 2012 as those who took plea deals — and, as the defenders note, the right to a fair trial is one of the most hallowed enshrined in the U.S. Constitution.

The public defenders call for judges who will speak out against mandatory minimum sentencing laws, and who will fight for drug-addicted defendants to receive treatment instead of long prison sentences. That seems like part of what will have to be a complex solution.

Public Defender Corporation for the Fifteenth Judicial Circuit

The Public Defender Corporation for the Fifteenth Judicial Circuit is located at 203 West Main Street, Clarksburg, Harrison County, West Virginia. The office consists of six attorneys and six support staff.

Johnna Shumate, our newest Assistant Public Defender, joined us in October 2016. Johnna is a native of southern West Virginia. She is a graduate of West Virginia University with an undergraduate degree in Journalism with a Spanish minor, a Master's Degree in Public Administration, and a Juris Doctor, Order of the Barristers. Johnna predominately handles misdemeanor and juvenile matters. She clerked for Chief Justice Davis and was a fellow or intern with the West Virginia Attorney General's Office, the Fayette County Prosecutor's Office, the West Virginia House of Delegates, Congressman Rahall, and Senator Rockefeller. Outside the office, Johnna assists in coaching competition trial teams at the WVU College of Law.

In September 2015, Lorena Litten came aboard as an Assistant Public Defender. She earned her Bachelor of Arts degree in Philosophy and her Doctor of Jurisprudence from West Virginia University. Ms. Litten's primary focus is upon misdemeanor, juvenile, and abuse and neglect matters. Prior to joining us she worked as an associate attorney for a law firm in Buckhannon, West Virginia. Lorena and her husband live in Elkins with their daughter and four children. She is an avid baker with a knack for decadent desserts. (However, she realizes she can't quit her day job. She needs taste testers!)

Assistant Public Defender Bryan Church began his criminal defense career with the office in May 2015. He is a native of Clarksburg who graduated from the University of Tennessee College of Law, and the West Virginia University School of Journalism. After graduating law school, Bryan served as a judicial law clerk to the Honorable Kurt W. Hall and the Honorable Jacob E. Reger of the Twenty-Sixth Judicial Circuit of West Virginia, which serves Lewis and Upshur counties. The majority of Mr. Church's practice concerns felony matters.

Eric Householder is the longest-serving Assistant Public Defender in the office. He started his career with the office in September 2012, and is assigned felony matters. Eric is a Virginia transplant who has recognized West Virginia as his home. He graduated from West Virginia University College of Law after having received a Bachelor of Science Degree in Political Science with a minor in History from the newly named and accredited Shepherd University. Eric worked at a Wheeling law firm prior to joining the office. The "WVU Dad" and his wife have three children who are active swimmers.

Perry Jones serves as our Deputy Public Defender. Mr. Jones was born and raised in Clarksburg, and obtained his undergraduate degree in Political Science from Lenoir-Rhyne University in Hickory, North Carolina. He is a 2004 graduate of Ohio Northern University, Pettit College of Law, with a Juris Doctor, with Distinction. He was an associate with the Clarksburg firm West and Jones for almost a decade, where he handled civil and criminal litigation in both federal and state courts in North Central West Virginia. In 2013, he joined the Public Defender's Office where he primarily handles felony matters. He also handles misdemeanor, abuse and neglect, family court contempt, mental hygiene, and extraditions, as needed - which is most of the time. Perry is the proud father of two teenagers.

Susan Morris is the Chief Public Defender and a Harrison County native. Susan graduated from Fairmont State College with a Bachelor of Science in Chemistry and an Associate in Applied Science in Drafting and Design. She earned her law degree from West Virginia University College of Law in 1990. Prior to joining the office, Susan was in private practice, worked for a major North American insurance company, and an Assistant Prosecuting Attorney. Susan has served on various boards related to criminal justice issues, and was the past president of the Harrison County Bar Association. In addition to the administrative duties of the office, Susan handles all types of cases.

Our legal staff is supported by a tenured group of individuals who have 99 years of combined experience at our office. They are Office Manger Sharon Skeen, Paralegal Dianne Lough, Secretaries Delores Shaffer, Mike Kuhl and Todd Hoy; and Investigator Patrick McFarland. It is with their support, assistance, and partnering, along with the attorneys' energy, tenacity and passion, that we continue to strive to make a positive impact in the lives of our clients and in the community we serve.

Public Defender Corporation for the Eighteenth Judicial Circuit

The Public Defender Corporation for the Eighteenth (18th) Judicial Circuit of Preston County, West Virginia has its office located at 202 Tunnelton Street, Suite 303, Kingwood, West Virginia. Our office was established in the year 2000, and it serves the population of Preston County.

As public defenders, we gain satisfaction from helping new lawyers better learn the practice of law through real life experiences at the trial level and before the Supreme Court of Appeals. This opportunity is a privilege. Interning at a PDC provides students with an educational opportunity they won't find elsewhere. For example, earlier this year, I had the opportunity to appear before the West Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals where they heard the case of State v. Riggleman. I had the pleasure of being assisted by our summer law intern, Summer Mossman, whose help was instrumental in the preparation of the petition and the reply brief. Additionally, the Appellate Advocacy Division at Public Defender Services gave invaluable assistance in preparation for my oral argument and Ms. Mossman participated along with me in those sessions. The Court also permitted Ms. Mossman to sit as co-counsel during oral argument at the Supreme Court.

Think about that: a law student not only was able to help prepare a petition and reply brief for the Supreme Court of Appeals, but also sit as co-counsel during oral arguments! This incredible experience sparked an idea to do something different in our narrative. What if we asked the interns to talk about their experience? After all, our team—Sally, Claire, Lisa, Wanda, and Judy—hasn't changed (you can read about us in last year's annual report). So, we did.

Claire Niehaus,
Assistant Public Defender

Legal Intern, Scott Dicken:

> While at the PDC, all three attorneys encouraged me to attend as many hearings as possible. I was also able to attend client meetings and plea negotiations with the prosecutor's office. Following court proceedings, meetings, and/or plea negotiations, Sally, Lisa, and Claire always took the time to walk me through everything that was occurring and what led to each individual outcome. I am greatly appreciative for the time they took to walk me through their reasoning, the prosecutor's reasoning, and/or the Judge's or Magistrate's reasoning.
> The best part of my summer experience was getting to work on a case that Lisa Hyre felt was very worthy of appeal to the Supreme Court of Appeals of West Virginia. I worked on the notice of appeal for the case and it was submitted just prior to my return to WVU. Upon returning to school, I approached one of my professors about writing the appeal brief for the case in place of the research paper assignment for the class. Luckily, the professor approved of the idea and, under Lisa Hyre's supervision, I submitted the appeal brief to the WV Supreme Court. The case is currently pending, but I am extremely excited to have played a major role in a WV Supreme Court case prior to my graduation from the WVU

College of Law. A victory would be an added bonus to the great summer that I spent at the 18th Judicial Circuit PDC.

Thank you Sally, Lisa, Claire, Judy, and Wanda for all of your help and support.

Scott Dicken,
WVU Law Student
2017 Summer Intern

Legal Intern, Summer Mossman:

My name is Summer Mossman and I was an intern with the 18th Judicial Circuit Public Defender Corporation in Kingwood in the summer of 2016. While interning with the office I gained invaluable experience in a variety of areas of criminal law including misdemeanors and felonies in the Magistrate and Circuit Courts, cases involving juveniles, and abuse and neglect cases.

I was able to take part in the drug court program, attending the team meetings on Thursday evenings and the hearings immediately thereafter. I was even able to witness a few people graduate from the program in October 2016 which was a happy occasion.

In abuse and neglect cases, not only was I able to sit in on the court hearings but I was also able to attend the Multi-Disciplinary Team meetings at the Department of Health and Human Resources which allowed me an opportunity to view negotiations and discussions regarding cases outside of the courtroom.

Since I was practicing under Rule 10, I was given the opportunity to appear before Judge Miller in Circuit Court. While this was initially out of my comfort zone, I am grateful for the practice and experiences.
There were two major highlights to my summer with the office. First, one of the staff attorneys, Lisa Hyre, tried a sex offense case before a jury for a man who had been sitting in jail for two years awaiting trial. Few cases go to trial now, and this provided a unique (and neat) experience many of my classmates wouldn't get to experience. I was able to be involved in the trial preparations including researching for pre-trial motions and listening to recordings of interviews. I was present for jury selection and voir dire, and I sat directly behind defense counsel for the entirety of the trial which concluded with our client being found not guilty on all counts.

Second, one of my major projects was to assist another staff attorney, Claire Niehaus, with an appeal to the Supreme Court of Appeals of West Virginia. The case involved an argument over the meaning of the phrase "crime of violence" because a man who was declared incompetent had been civilly committed to a mental institution for the maximum sentence he could have received criminally. I was able to research and help with the brief, including signing my name to it under Rule 10. The appeal was accepted by the Court for oral argument. I travelled with Ms. Niehaus to Public Defender Services in Charleston where she was able to practice her argument in front of a group of attorneys from the Appellate Advocacy Division. This all culminated in Claire and my visit to the Supreme Court of Appeals in Charleston for the oral argument. I was even able to watch one of my former law professors argue a case before the Court. While the Court did not rule in our client's favor, the experience and knowledge I gained was invaluable.

I have since graduated law school, passed the West Virginia Bar, and recently was sworn in. I am working full-time as a clerk for a Circuit Court judge in my home state of Maryland but intend to return to West Virginia. My summer with the public defenders in Kingwood has been one of my most memorable summers yet and is one of my favorite experiences in my short legal career. I keep in touch with the wonderful attorneys at that office and they have been more than willing to help me in my endeavors.

Public Defender Corporation for the Twenty-third Judicial Circuit

The Mission of the Eastern Panhandle Public Defender Office (EPPDO) is to provide competent, thoroughly professional legal representation to the indigent criminally accused in all Courts in the Twenty-third (23rd) Judicial Circuit of West Virginia in an efficient, cost-effective manner when appointed to do so by competent judicial authority.

Our clientele primarily consists of defendants in criminal matters at the felony and misdemeanor levels in Circuit and Magistrate Court, but the obligation to provide professional, competent legal representation extends to and includes appointments to represent offending respondents in parental rights termination matters ("abuse and neglect" cases), Family Law Court contempt proceedings, juvenile offender matters and mental hygiene involuntary commitment proceedings, as well as appellate matters at various levels when assigned to do so by a Court, to include prosecuting appeals in the WV Supreme Court of Appeals.

The EPPDO office responsibilities include all the courts in all three county jurisdictions in the Eastern Panhandle (Berkeley, Jefferson and Morgan), as well as seven individual municipal courts in various towns throughout the Panhandle, particularly Martinsburg's Municipal Court. Our two separate offices are located in Martinsburg, which covers all matters in Berkeley and Morgan counties, and a satellite office in Charles Town, which handles all matters in Jefferson County. In Fiscal Year 2016, the office handled 4,448 individual, discrete cases and we are currently on pace to exceed that total in 2017, due to a combination of population growth, as well as the easing of financial eligibility guidelines that dictate and control the availability of court-appointed counsel.

Established nearly thirty years ago and operating continuously since, we are the second largest Public Defender Corporation in West Virginia, with a staff of 33 individuals: 20 licensed attorneys and 13 clerical support staff members and investigators. The team at the EPPDO is a committed, dedicated crew, truly devoted to ensuring that our clients of all types are treated justly: we fiercely protect the rights of poor, often powerless and are somehow enmeshed in other legal difficulties touching upon fundamental rights, thus ensuring that the criminal justice system is administered fairly, remains open, accessible and even-handed -- and is perceived as such by the general public and citizenry that we serve. We ensure that the everyday-person accused of wrongdoing by a powerful government and police apparatus is not overwhelmed and unduly intimidated and that his or her voice and "side of the story" is told by a tenacious, professional advocate committed to his or her cause. As Chief Public Defender, and a veteran of nearly twenty years in the trenches at the EPPDO, I am supremely confident that we are well-regarded and respected by all the judges and opposing counsel in our bailiwick. We are the proverbial "overworked and underpaid" public servants: despite staggering caseloads —well above and greatly surpassing ABA guideline levels - and extremely low compensation relative to our peers in the local prosecutors' offices, we enjoy very low turnover among the staff and have accrued a level of experience and expertise unrivaled in the State: a devoted team of career Public Defenders serving the State and her people and Courts.

Tom Delaney,
Chief Public Defender

Public Defender Corporation for the Twenty-fifth Judicial Circuit

Just as an object in motion stays in motion, the 25th PDC moved into FY 18 energized by the previous year's momentum. Last year's principal theme was change – primarily changing the principles that guide our office's daily operation. That anthem of change carries over as we start FY 18 with the addition of new employees, new office space, and a new Recovery Coach Program.

NEW FACES

Tasha Miller joined our team in November of 2016. She studied English at West Virginia University, and attended Capital University where she received her law degree. Her primary focus within our Madison office entails Abuse/Neglect and Juvenile cases. From the get-go, Tasha presented a true passion for counseling underprivileged children and disadvantaged families. These clients are often unfamiliar with and overwhelmed by the legal process. Tasha's family and youth advocacy experience serves to ease her clients' concerns as they navigate a complex legal system. She pushes daily to ensure they receive the resources, services, and justness they deserve.

Crissey Ryan joined our team in December of 2016. Crissey divides her attention as administrative assistant between the Madison and Hamlin offices. She is a quick learner who is proving to be a skillful and self-motivated member of our office. She possesses a sprightly spirit, and greets clients with a welcoming smile. We are lucky to have her.

Regenia Mayne joined our team in April of 2017. She studied English at Marshall University, and received her law degree from the University of Kentucky. Having grown up in the Hamlin area, Regenia is a familiar face and right-at-home in the Lincoln County office. She brings a broad knowledge base to the Hamlin Office, and primarily concentrates on felony and juvenile matters. Regenia's legal experience includes workers' compensation law as assistant attorney general, insurance defense litigation, disability law, and criminal defense work (both in private practice and as assistant public defender in Wayne County).

NEW SPACE

Our Hamlin office has found a new home starting in August of 2017. We are thrilled with the opportunity to be the first entity to utilize newly renovated office space at the Lincoln County Court House Annex. The transition was several months in the making, and reflects hard work from a number of people. We are ecstatic with the results. Through our presence, the Lincoln County Commission aims to demonstrate steady utilization of the building, and by doing so hopes to obtain grant funding to convert a portion of the Annex into new family and magistrate court facilities.

NEW PROGRAM

The 25th PDC is proud to announce commencement of an in-house Recovery Coach Program set to kick-off in January of 2018. By means of a Community Impact Grant established by the United Way of Central West Virginia, salary funding was secured to employ a Recovery Coach in the Boone County office. This program aims to integrate substance abuse and addiction counseling with the legal representation already provided. In so doing, we aim to reduce recidivism, reunify families, and re-establish clients as productive members of the community. Thanks go out to Stephanne Thornton, for without her support this project could not have been realized.

Troy Adams,
Chief Public Defender

Public Defender Corporation for the Twenty-eighth Judicial Circuit

The 28th Judicial Circuit Public Defender Corporation in Summersville was first established in 1983, making it the first public defender corporation in the state.

At its inception, D. Mark Snyder was the sole practitioner and public defender until Cynthia Stanton was hired in October 1987. For the first seven years, Ms. Stanton was the only public defender in Nicholas County. In 1994 a decision in Charleston was made to hire an assistant public defender to work with Ms. Stanton. In the last twenty-three years, six attorneys have held this position. We have two attorneys and two administrative assistants. Sarah Campbell began work in October 2013 and specializes in abuse and neglect proceedings and juvenile matters. Kathy O'Dell has worked in the office for twenty years and now serves as the office manager. After working many years in other law offices, Theresa Cartwright began working for our corporation in 2015. Ms. Stanton, Chief Public Defender, is the longest serving public defender in the state.

The 28th Judicial Circuit Public Defender Corporation has maintained an annual caseload of approximately 500-600 cases annually since Ms. Stanton took over as Chief. This office has been responsible for indigent representation in all areas of eligible criminal defense proceedings. Our office handles approximately 70% of all criminal applicants appointed representation in the county. We handle all mental hygiene hearings during work hours and at night unless we have a conflict. The attorneys handle all court appointments unless there is a co-defendant or similar conflict. Ms. Stanton appears in family court when appointed by the Family Court Judge. Drug Court was established in July 2016 and is currently active with over ten participants. Ms. Stanton serves on the drug court advisory committee and treatment team who meets weekly with the drug court participants. Ms. Stanton is also the President of the Board of Directors for the Community Corrections Board that oversees the Day Report Center.

Our office has always prepared each attorney to ensure they are ready to conduct any kind of criminal proceeding. Every attorney that has left the office is typically prepared to handle all types of criminal proceedings. The ability to accomplish this is based upon necessity as our Circuit only elects one judge and our attorneys must be available for all proceedings during the weekdays, weeknights, and weekends. In fact, several of our attorneys have served as assistant prosecutors, and of the five former assistant public defenders, one currently serves as the Chief Prosecuting Attorney in their circuit.

We purchased and renovated our building at 723 Main Street in 1996 and since 2003 have had no mortgage liability. Since then, we have been able to reinvest these savings into training and legal advocacy for our staff and attorneys.

At this point we believe that we have a sound system in place to address indigent clients in our circuit.

Cynthia Stanton,
Chief Public Defender

Public Defender Corporation for the Thirtieth Judicial Circuit

PROMOTING PUBLIC DEFENDER CIVIC ENGAGEMENT

The Public Defender Corporation for the 30th Judicial Circuit is the largest, busiest, and most experienced law firm in Mingo County. We are proud to be leaders in our legal community.

After having lived through the scandal of 2013, during which our former circuit judge, county prosecutor, chief magistrate, a county commissioner, and Williamson's mayor were all convicted of federal crimes, we made a commitment to be even more civically engaged. We decided to establish a presence at as many and varied governmental meetings as possible. As former Kanawha County Chief Public Defender George Castelle once said, "It's not what you can accomplish by being present. It's about what won't happen because you are there." So for the past four years, we have tried to have a presence at the Mingo County Commission, Williamson City Council meetings, and Tug Valley Chamber of Commerce meetings, among others. As you can see from an attached newspaper article, this presence resulted in our county commission celebrating the 54th anniversary of Gideon v. Wainwright by declaring March 24, 2017, as Mingo County Public Defender Day through proclamation. Our office's presence has also assisted the governmental entities in abiding by the sunshine laws and other procedures protecting the citizenry of Mingo County. For the most part, the government officials have appreciated our input so that future problems could be avoided.

Our Office

Our office opened for business on January 15, 1990. Since that time we've grown from a one attorney, one secretary office to a four attorney office with a clerical staff of three. Our office handles approximately 500 cases a year, including felony, misdemeanor, juvenile and mental hygiene matters. Over the years our attorney staff has supervised 30+ law student interns from 10 different law schools, many of whom have chosen to practice law in West Virginia.

Our chief defender, Teresa McCune, attended Marshall University and Antioch School of Law. She handles most of our juvenile matters and murder cases. Teresa is active in the state and local bar, and in community service. She was appointed by governor Tomblin to serve on the state Indigent Defense Council, as well as being chosen as a Rural Juvenile Ambassador by the mid-Atlantic Juvenile Defender Center. She chairs the State Bar Committee on Access to Justice, serves on the WV Supreme Court of Appeals Fatality Review Task force, and is a former MCLE Commissioner. Teresa is a member of the WV State Bar Criminal Law Committee. She is a founding member of West Virginia Women Attorneys, has been named a WV Bar Foundation Fellow, and has received the Governor's Service Award. Teresa founded and directs "On Track for College," an award-winning college bound coaching program that helps students preparing for higher education. She is also a member of Williamson Woman's Club (chosen Clubwoman of the Year 2015) and the Mingo/Pike branch of AAUW. Locally, Teresa is also the Chair of Christian Help of Mingo County, a charitable organization which provides direct aid to the needy. At the 2015 King Coal Festival Teresa was awarded the Humanitarian Award for her community service.
